ACHS to try again for tax increase

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Community High School board of education will ask for an increase in taxes in the November election. After the referendum defeat last April, the board will once again try to convince voters to vote yes.

According to the board, the district has not increased its tax rate for over 25 years. The money would be used to pay the actual costs of running the school's education program.

According to ACHS Superintendent Dr. Robert Schley, the referendum will address a number of the school's needs.

"Obviously there is a real need for this in the district," said Schley. "I do not believe the students of Antioch are

'I do not believe the students of Antioch are receiving the quality education they deserve.'

—Dr. Robert Schley,
ACHS superintendent

receiving the quality education they deserve."

Voters vetoed the last referendum in April. Some area groups question the need for the increase. In addition, local residents have recently received their new tax assessments and many complain of increases. Logically, it would seem that the more taxes a homeowner pays, the more money the school would receive.

Paradoxically, this is not true. The school district is faced with a 3 percent cap regardless of the increased tax earnings. And possibly, assessment increases may cause an even lower reduction of state aid to the schools.

"Our total tax dollars are limited," said Schley. "As assessment rates jump, state aid drops."

On Tuesday, Sept. 7 there will be an organizational meeting at the ACHS to discuss the upcoming referendum. Anyone interested in volunteering or to learn more about the referendum drive should call Linda at 395-1421 extension 211.

Subdivision 'emergency'

Village to complete improvements at Abbey Estates

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Abbey Estates subdivision was declared an emergency after the developer failed to complete the necessary improvements required by previous board action. The area is experiencing problems concerning inadequate erosion control, storm water drainage, and inadequate street paving.

The subdivision is located on Nelson Road, south of the Wisconsin border. At this time only one house has been built in the project.

The declaration of emergency permits the Village of Antioch to go in and make the necessary repairs up to a cost of $15,000. These costs will then be passed onto the developer.

The developer, DiPaolo Company of Glenview, apparently began to make the necessary improvements. However, after an initial flurry of work DiPaolo failed to complete the work.

The Antioch Village Board originally declared the area an emergency in June. The resolution allowed the village to bid on the work with a cost limit of $20,000. (Continued on page 45)

PACE services continue despite brief interruption

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch, Lake Villa, and Lindenhurst have recently lost the services of their PACE carrier which provided transportation to handicapped and elderly residents. The current carrier, Courtesy Cabs, has ceased operations leaving the area without any service.

PACE services are provided by a local cab company. Clients call the cab company and pay half the fare while the PACE system picks up the other half. During non-PACE hours, the villages of Antioch, Lake Villa, and Lindenhurst pick up the tab for the PACE share.

Apparently, the former carrier discontinued service without any notice to officials. According to Antioch Treasurer, Barbara Reulbach, the company owner is moving to Southern Illinois.

"We wish we had known sooner," said Reulbach. "But, despite the pending contract, seniors and the handicapped will be able to use the service."

Working feverishly to continue service, Antioch officials have found another carrier to provide the service while the application to PACE is pending. Lake County Transportation System, out of Waukegan will be providing transportation.

The driver, Roshun, has the insurance coverage required by PACE, submitted the necessary drug and alcohol screening results, and has a nice clean cab. Seniors and the handicapped will still be paying (Continued on page 45)

ARC rejoices but County may still get riverboat

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

While members of ARC (Against Riverboat Casinos) are celebrating their grass-roots victory, the Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership is gearing up to seek an additional license for a Lake County applicant.

After a sometimes bitter battle, the Illinois Gaming Commission gave the last riverboat license to the Hyatt based Elgin location. The Partnership is now hoping for a license for two boats: one in Fox Lake and the other in Waukegan.

by the Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board on Sept. 8. The proposed $2.5 million facility should have the capability to handle most general outpatient surgeries done at local hospitals. If all goes well, the Victory Ambulatory Care Center could open by 1995.

Republicans will be linked by satellite

LAKE COUNTY—Residents of Lake County will be able to take a part in what is billed as the largest meeting of Republicans in the nation's history. The meeting, sponsored by the Republican Exchange Satellite Network will be broadcast to over 1,000 sites across America through a special satellite downline. ## Church rummage sale to benefit Aimee Rick

LIBERTYVILLE—Members of the community are coming together to raise funds for a special communications device for cerebral palsy victim Aimee Rick. A rummage sale will be held next week at Grace Lutheran Church, 501 Valley Park Dr. in Libertyville. The effort will include a bake sale and a silent auction. Hours and dates are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sept. 9 and 10, and 9 a.m. to noon Sat., Sept. 11.

"We are ecstatic," said ARC representative Kurt Gamlin. "If they find an area where the community embraces the riverboat, that is fine with us."

The Partnership is prepared to submit their proposal to the legislature in either the special session or at the regular meeting in October.

It is unclear whether the issue of the Antioch site is totally settled. Glenn Seidenfeld admits that the Partnership has not completely ruled out the Antioch site. When asked about this Gamlin jokingly replied, "We still have our mailing lists."

Working in harmony sets stage for effective communication

Communication refers to the complete expression of ideas and feelings. Effective communication relies on the two-way process of transmitting and receiving information. Such communication involves sending and receiving messages by talking, writing, and through body gestures.

Every time a message is sent it is received and interpreted by the listener. The listener plays an active role. In order for the communication to be complete the receiver/listener must hear and feel the message.

Effective communication includes speaking, listening, reflecting, and interpreting the meaning conveyed. Aside from the actual words, the tone of voice, as well as body gestures play an important role in this process.

Research tells us that up to 90 percent of the meaning conveyed from one person to another is through nonverbal communication such as body gestures, facial expression, voice tone, and other subconscious transmissions. In fact, body language has a greater reliability rate and may even contradict words spoken.

In verbal communication the speed, tone, and pitch convey a great deal. Speakers, the senders of messages must be aware of their own style of communication and the reactions of others to what they say.

The communication model established during the early education years between parent and teacher can establish a strong base for relationships for years to come. Due to the importance of effective communication a breakdown in communication between parents and early childhood teachers and caregivers could have a serious long-term effect.

Teachers and parents need to treat one another with respect and value each others input. The following tips can aid in parent and teacher communication:

•View each other as a partner.

•Listen carefully
•Hear and feel the message.

•Give total attention.
•Be sensitive to each others feelings

•Protect egos—Don't blame.

•Respect values, customs, and cultures.
•Use proper language.

•Rephrase statements and check out understanding.

•Remember no one ever wins arguments.

•Focus on strengths and weaknesses calmly.

•Be open and honest.

•Develop cooperative decision-making.

The willingness to collaborate and work in harmony as partners sets the stage for effective communication.—by SUSAN LoSAVIO, Central Baptist Children's Home

Problems prevented by inspections

The health and safety inspection by a sanitarian representing the local health department is an integral component of the Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS) licensing process. Focusing on the physical plant and potential safety hazards, these inspections contribute to the process by adding an environmental perspective.

To assess the environmental, sanitary and safety level of a facility, the sanitarian uses a number of indicators covering existing and potential conditions both in and out of doors. Conditions deemed a concern are noted on an inspection sheet as items. Items vary in point value depending on the conditions they conduct an exit interview to discuss findings. Depending on the number of items noted and the point values, clearance may or may not be granted. If clearance is not granted, a reasonable amount of time, i.e., ten days, is allowed to take corrective action. If difficulty is encountered when deciding on corrective actions, it is the sanitarian's responsibility to offer reasonable solutions.

While the licensing process may be arduous, and sometimes tedious, keep in mind that the ultimate results are good. Potential problems may be prevented, better relationships formed and assurance that the welfare and safety of children have been carefully considered.—by TROY LIST, Sanitarian, Health Facilities Div., Lake County Health Dept.

Your child's crossed eyes may cause permanent damage if not treated!

CROSSED EYES and other eye misalignments do not usually correct themselves. By the time a child is seven years old the vision damage they cause can become permanent.

Eye misalignments can be corrected as soon as a child is six months old. The earlier the correction, the more time there is for normal vision to develop.

Use skills, intuition in choosing right child care

The choice of appropriate care for your child is very personal. There is tremendous variability among good child care situations (not to mention inadequate situations). State licensing mandates only minimum requirements for child care, and some providers do not need to be licensed. You must make your own well-reasoned decisions about where and with whom you will place your child.

Use your skills and your intuition in choosing child care. If something doesn't seem right to you, if you don't feel comfortable with a particular provider or center, trust your judgment. A good program for someone else may be the wrong one for you and your child. Should you uncover a serious problem in your research, by all means report it to the Resource and Referral agency, if you used one, or to the Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services (DCFS).

Illinois has developed a network of Resource and Referral agencies to provide child care information. (See "Agencies and Resources" for a listing of those in the metropolitan Chicago area). Child care "R and Rs" charge an annual fee for their service, which may be on a sliding scale. Many agencies (too many to list) provide good information on a more localized basis. Some charge and some are free. Some suburban governments and local health departments may be good resources.

Other community resources can also be helpful in finding child care. Friends whom you trust, clergy, teachers, physicians, social workers, placement agencies and newspaper advertisements can all be useful.

Never rely solely on someone else's advice, however. Utilize people and agencies as guides, but then form your own impressions. Talk to potential providers personally and learn as much as possible about the situation before making your selection. As you search, collect all written materials that are available, such as rules, activities, staff backgrounds, fees, child progress reports, etc. Make a checklist to record your observations—the sights, sounds, smells and "feel" of your visit. This information and your impressions will help you make a good decision. And give yourself enough time to evaluate your options!

If you are hiring someone for in-home care, telephone screening should determine what kind of experience and training the applicant has. Ask about her work history, why she left previous jobs and about any gaps between jobs.

Make sure the applicant understands the requirements of your job. (If a driver's license or car is necessary, or if you expect light housekeeping or cooking to be included, for example, say so). Be direct about salary, benefits and hours.

If the applicant sounds like someone you might want to hire, make an appointment for a home interview. Ask enough questions to feel comfortable about how she will handle the job and your child. Ask for references and be sure to follow them up. Then see how the applicant and your child respond to each other.

Child care centers and family day care providers should also be screened by telephone.

Kill the pool

I just would like to comment on the proposed library-pool complex. I read, with much interest, the designs mailed out from the park district. I really think it is over-kill. This proposed complex is going to cost Grayslake taxpayers a big chunk of change. The pool is wrong and the library is right!

Overtaxed

I am an Antioch resident and am very upset about my real estate taxes. I was a flood victim. We are supposed to be in a disaster area. Yesterday I received a new assessment on my older home and I was increased over $6,000. I don't think this is justice. I think everyone should be up in arms. The referendum did not pass so why should the people be further punished?

Overtaxed too

I calling from Mundelein. The real estate taxes have gone up too high. They have gone up too much for a normal family to afford. How can people afford to live in Lake County if the taxes are this high. You are chasing us out of the county. Something must be done and done soon.

Sleepless

This is for "helicopter blues." I am from Mundelein and those helicopters at night are driving us nuts. I have been complaining about this. Good for you. We are all with you!

Haunted chair, haunted house?

What is going on with the haunted house on Kenwood in Round Lake Park? Supposedly this house is haunted and strange things are going on.

No common sense

This is to the "yuppie entertainment" person. If you want to see plays, you picked the wrong place to go. Apparently, you are unaware of the history and involvement of the county fair. All you know is your gourmet food. You wouldn't be looking for wine at a brewery, so you shouldn't expect plays and chamber music at a county fair. Anyone with common sense would know that.

Big cat?

I am from Mundelein in Fair Haven Subdivision. I would like to know who has the black cat with the pink collar. Please keep your cat in. I love animals and that cat is killing small animals in my yard. The little children are afraid of it too.

Editorial note: Dear readers, once again I must ask you limit your calls to only one a week. We are unable to print repeated messages from a single individual and we have no idea which message is more important to you.

Pay their way

"No frills education" has it all wrong. The school district does not pay for summer camps for cheerleaders or the pom-pom squad. They and their parents bear the costs. Get your facts straight before opening your mouth.

Pretty strong statement

People who smoke in front of children are guilty of child abuse. Smokers with children are lucky that pro-lifers don't care about the child after it is born. Otherwise, they would jump on the band wagon of this slow form of murder.

Peacetime noise

This is for "helicopter blues." I have been complaining for years in Mundelein about the helicopters at night. There is no war on!

Big bill, bad service

Anybody who pays a $65 cable bill a month when the service is off so much of the time is ridiculous. Get a life.

Welcome

I am a sophomore at Round Lake High School. On behalf of all the students, I would like to welcome Mr. Jim Briscoe, our new principal.

Steamed

I am calling to respond to "yuppie entertainment." A better educated, more refined individual may want to take some time to educate themselves about the high tech world of agriculture. The so called dirt heads are highly trained entrepreneurs that probably have five to 10 times the earning power of this individual. Go to Lincolnshire! Get your head out of your backside, open your eyes, and you might learn you have lead a very sheltered life. I am steamed.

Fenced out

I am calling from Round Lake. Why do people put big fences around their yards and let their little three and four year old children play out in the street? Is it to keep the children out of the yard? Lipservice, I love you.

Thank you

Lipservice, I just want to say thank you to all the people of Grayslake who made the Summer Days parade such a nice thing. Even the people gathering around the booths were so nice.

Not refined, not educated

This is in response to "yuppie entertainment." First of all, I have a questions. How can you enjoy a play while sitting amongst chicken, horse, sheep and pig manure? If you were truly refined, you would go to one of our many playhouses located all over Lake County. And, if you were at all educated, you would know that beer is against the law on fair grounds. Name calling is an especially unrefined thing to do.

Heat leads to early dismissals

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Due to the searing 90 degree temperatures, many area school students got a break on the first week of school. While some schools released students early, other schools turned off lights, modified their schedules, held classes outside, and gave students frozen treats.

Antioch Community High School released students early to avoid heat health problems. According to school personnel, only a very small part of the school has air conditioning. None of the District 34 schools, which includes Antioch Grade School, Antioch Upper Grade School, W.C. Petty, and Oakland, planned early releases.

According to school personnel, releasing students in the lower grades could have resulted in young children arriving home with no one to care for them. This is especially true when both parents are working. While the schools were warm, teachers made every effort to keep kids cool.

"Parents have been wonderful," said Principal Mary Kay McNeill of Antioch Grade School. "They have been sending in popsicles and dressing the students in cooler clothing."

Many Fox Lake area schools also released students early. Gavin Central students left at 1:30, Gavin North at 2 p.m., and Gavin South students were released at 1 p.m. Grant Community High School students left at 1:30 p.m. and St. Bedes released students between 1:15 and 1:45 p.m. District 13, Richmond-Burton School students were able to leave at 1:30. All other Fox Lake Schools remained open.

Millburn School, District 24 ended classes at 1:30 p.m. while other Lake Villa and Lindenhurst School will not begin until next week.

Forecasts for the week include further high temperatures, heavy rains and humidity. Students, teachers, and everyone else should avoid strenuous activity, drink plenty of fluids, and think cool.

Chain sound monitoring to increase

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

In order to assist in enforcing sound monitoring on area lakes, the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency announced that they have offered the Lake County Sheriff's Marine Patrol use of the agency accident response boat as a station for the monitoring, on weekends.

According to officials, the boat was donated to the agency four years ago from OMC (Outboard Motor Corp.), and is a pontoon boat equipped with generators and several flood lights, which the agency has used as a type of floating office.

The marine patrol, according to the waterway agency, is proposing to use the boat loaned to them by the agency at the beginning of the month, at various locations on the lakes, in order to monitor sound decibel levels of boats operating on the water. The Sheriff's Patrol plans to cite offenders accordingly.

A Sheriff's boat will remain nearby to follow and ticket boats exceeding the 75 db limit of sound that reaches the shoreline, established by state law.

Boats that are stationary, according to Sgt. Jim Bryant of the Lake County Marine Unit on Rte. 12, cannot exceed 90 db (decibels).

Sgt. Bryant stated that those with boats can take them into the Marine Unit located on Rte. 12, for volunteer testing, virtually anytime Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to midnight, on Fox Lake just over the large bridge.

"We've found that it's a real good platform to do our sound monitoring on," said Bryant regarding the use of the agency boat.

So far this year, at least eight boats on the Chain have been cited for exceeding noise limits, but the Sergeant added, "there's numerous boats out here violating the sound law."

Lack of candidates for school board openings

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

In both the Emmons School District 33 and Antioch's District 34 there are more openings than candidates this year. In District 34 there are four openings with only two candidates putting in their petitions at the Aug. 23 deadline. In Emmons School District out of five open positions, only three candidates filed.

In the Emmons School District it is felt that the large number of openings is responsible. Emmons School has a great deal of parental involvement. Recently, many parents volunteered to work on the new playground.

"It is because we have so many openings at once," said a school representative.

There also seems to be no particular reason why District 34 does not have enough candidates. Superintendent Skidmore speculates that attention may be diverted to the high school.

"So much is happening at the high school," said Skidmore.

In situations where there are not enough candidates at the time of filing, those interested in running can appear on the ballot as a write-in candidate. At this time, it is not clear if the board is required to recognize write-in candidates. Therefore, it is best to contract the County Election Office. If, after the election there are still not enough board members, new members would be appointed.

Kill the pool

I just would like to comment on the proposed library-pool complex. I read, with much interest, the designs mailed out from the park district. I really think it is over-kill. This proposed complex is going to cost Grayslake taxpayers a big chunk of change. The pool is wrong and the library is right!

Overtaxed

I am an Antioch resident and am very upset about my real estate taxes. I was a flood victim. We are supposed to be in a disaster area. Yesterday I received a new assessment on my older home and I was increased over $6,000. I don't think this is justice. I think everyone should be up in arms. The referendum did not pass so why should the people be further punished?

Overtaxed too

I calling from Mundelein. The real estate taxes have gone up too high. They have gone up too much for a normal family to afford. How can people afford to live in Lake County if the taxes are this high. You are chasing us out of the county. Something must be done and done soon.

Sleepless

This is for "helicopter blues." I am from Mundelein and those helicopters at night are driving us nuts. I have been complaining about this. Good for you. We are all with you!

Haunted chair, haunted house?

What is going on with the haunted house on Kenwood in Round Lake Park? Supposedly this house is haunted and strange things are going on.

No common sense

This is to the "yuppie entertainment" person. If you want to see plays, you picked the wrong place to go. Apparently, you are unaware of the history and involvement of the county fair. All you know is your gourmet food. You wouldn't be looking for wine at a brewery, so you shouldn't expect plays and chamber music at a county fair. Anyone with common sense would know that.

Big cat?

I am from Mundelein in Fair Haven Subdivision. I would like to know who has the black cat with the pink collar. Please keep your cat in. I love animals and that cat is killing small animals in my yard. The little children are afraid of it too.

Editorial note: Dear readers, once again I must ask you limit your calls to only one a week. We are unable to print repeated messages from a single individual and we have no idea which message is more important to you.

Pay their way

"No frills education" has it all wrong. The school district does not pay for summer camps for cheerleaders or the pom-pom squad. They and their parents bear the costs. Get your facts straight before opening your mouth.

Pretty strong statement

People who smoke in front of children are guilty of child-abuse. Smokers with children are lucky that pro-lifers don't care about the child after it is born. Otherwise, they would jump on the band wagon of this slow form of murder.

Peacetime noise

This is for "helicopter blues." I have been complaining for years in Mundelein about the helicopters at night. There is no war on!

Big bill, bad service

Anybody who pays a $65 cable bill a month when the service is off so much of the time is ridiculous. Get a life.

Welcome

I am a sophomore at Round Lake High School. On behalf of all the students, I would like to welcome Mr. Jim Briscoe, our new principal.

Steamed

I am calling to respond to "yuppie entertainment." A better educated, more refined individual may want to take some time to educate themselves about the high tech world of agriculture. The so called dirt heads are highly trained entrepreneurs that probably have five to 10 times the earning power of this individual. Go to Lincolnshire! Get your head out of your backside, open your eyes, and you might learn you have lead a very sheltered life. I am steamed.

Fenced out

I am calling from Round Lake. Why do people put big fences around their yards and let their little three and four year old children play out in the street? Is it to keep the children out of the yard? Lipservice, I love you.

Marquart brings friends together with designs

New faces

It is always fun visiting with old friends and meeting new people. Cynthia Marquart recently hosted a "Designs by Diane" fashion party in her home and I had the pleasant opportunity to meet Michelle Marko, Sally Wojtkiewicz, Jan Edwards, Angie Walters, Rose Pauskysts and Marilyn Dayhoss for the first time. The pleasure was definitely all mine.

It was also fun visiting with Linda Boerman, Chris Gore, Donna Schmehl, Wendy Bryant, Marie Brausam and Jean Lehmann. Jean was very excited over her latest adventure of taking horseback riding lessons with her daughters, Jennifer and Jessica. In fact, she bought a beautiful new pink riding outfit at the fashion gathering. Enjoy your new outfits, ladies and keep smiling "till we meet again."

Yellow streak

Part of my daily prayers, and even more so with the month of September upon us, is "God grant me the strength." I love my family. I love my friends. However, I am contemplating an extended September vacation. Why, you ask? I have a yellow streak running down my back a mile long and two miles wide. "The Lizard" will be turning the "Big 50" on Sept. 15 and I am scared to death as to what festivities my "loved ones" may have in store for me.

I will pay dearly for any information concerning this turning point in my life. If you have any information leading to the "arrest and conviction" of people involved in party plans for "The Lizard," please call me ASAP. All calls will remain confidential and I will give extra special column coverage to the tidbits of my informants. Help! go easy on me, people. I hate surprises, unless they are happening to someone else. Boo-hoo boo-hoo.

Belated birthday

Speaking of special birthdays, I would like to wish a happy belated Aug. 11 birthday to Judy Fechtner. Remember, Judy, we are not getting older, just better. Right?? Sounds good to me.

Another boo boo

That's me alright. I very rarely do anything half way. My "Camelot" casting blunder obviously wanted company so now I find it necessary to report a wrong date listing for the next monthly meeting of the Grass Lake School Board. Rather than show up on Sept. 7 and be met by an empty board room and locked doors, I suggest you

Hometown Goodies

LIZ SCHMEHL
395-5380

circle Tuesday, Sept. 14, as the correct date, if you are interested in attending the Board meeting and also in participating in the annual budget hearing. OOPS, as it gets nearer and nearer to my Sept. 15 "50th" birthday it seems that I am prone to make mistakes.

Whoooo

Sorry, but I have another animal story to tell. When we moved to the Grass Lake area of Antioch, 25 years ago, I knew the owl population out here was alive and well. I even remember a little boy bringing an orphaned baby owl to school for show n' tell. However, it has been a long time since I have seen an owl in our area. The exact opposite is true of Eagle River.

As my husband and I were returning home from the movies one evening, I noticed something on the edge of the road. I issued the directive "slow down, there is something on the road." I expected to see a rabbit, raccoon or squirrel. As we came closer, we realized it was a huge owl. As our car neared, he spread his huge wings and flew to the tree tops, leaving me with yet another reason to marvel over the natural beauty of the Northwoods.

Achs

Amy Reijonen of Antioch was named the winner of the Annual Bausch and Lomb Science Award at ACHS. This bronze medal award is presented to winners at approximately 6,500 participating schools throughout the United States, Canada and several foreign nations. The program began in 1933 and more than 385,000 medals have been awarded to outstanding science students since that time.

As winner of the award, Amy is eligible to apply at the University of Rochester as a Bausch and Lomb Scholar. Scholarship funds are available at the minimum of $5,000 per year for four years. Congratulations, Amy, and please keep us posted on future successes.

Footlights

St. Peter's Parish in Antioch will soon be presenting Footlights '93. This is the twelfth year for Footlights and it has proven to be one of the largest fundraisers for the parish and school. There is no doubt that the success of this event depends on the support of many parishioners and friends of St. Peter Parish.

In actuality, Footlights has become a necessity to help defray the rising costs of the parish and school. One of the most important assets to Footlights is the ad book. This gives everyone an opportunity to participate. If you would like to support St. Peter's Parish with an ad in the "Footlights" ad book, please contact JoAnn Omond at 395-2500 or 395-1147 for further information.

Happy Birthday

Another new month indicates it is time for another new happy birthday parade of names. I would like to extend a very happy September birthday to the following Antioch area people from Lizard and readers, Wendy Charvat, Becky Clarke, Amy Dembinski, Carrie Dunfrund, Laura Edelman, Irene Falcone, Sandy Forst, Neil Hansen, Jenny Harris, Kathy Harris, Blake Harrison.

David Izenstark, Danny Jorudd, Jessica Lehmann, Lauren Lichter, Bradley Lindstrom, Wayne Olsen, Sr., Marian Rohde, Liz Schmehl, Phil Smerz, Lorraine Smiles, Eileen Stann, Howard Stann, Nicholas Stann, Amy Terry, Kaite (our lady) Turner, Al Vandrush, Renee Vaughan and Sandy Webel. Incidentally Marian Rohde told me she has made definite arrangements to freeze her age at 49 years old. Some people have all the luck.

Kindermusik comes to Lakes Area Music Center

Kindermusik begins at the Lakes Area Music Center this month.

Kindermusik comes to Lakes Area Music Center. Tom Erlenborn, owner of the Lakes Area Music Center in Antioch has announced that classes in Kindermusik, a unique program of music learning and enjoyment for children ages four to seven, will be offered at the Lakes Area Music Center beginning in September.

Kindermusik is a structured and sequential curriculum which nurtures the development of the whole child through speaking and singing, movement, listening and creating. Children also learn about writing and reading music and to play various percussion instruments.

Kindermusik, which is now being taught to more than 12,000 children in 45 states and three provinces of Canada, will be taught by Kindermusik specialist Ms. Christina Mitchell. Ms. Mitchell received her Kin-dermusik training at Northwestern University in Evanston in July of this year.

In addition to her work with Kindermusik, Ms. Mitchell has taught piano privately for 18 years. She has a B.A. from Michigan State University in elementary education and music. She has also completed graduate work at Michigan State University. Post graduate study included three years of private study with Dorothy Hanna in Michigan and two years of study with Suzanne Ribaud in Denver, Colo. Ms. Mitchell taught privately in Denver for ten years before joining the faculty of Lakes Area Music Center in 1989.

America's leading composer and conductor Leonard Bernstein has said, "Children must receive musical instruction as naturally as food, and with as much pleasure as they derive from a baseball game. And this must happen at the beginning of their lives." Tom Erlenborn feels that Kindermusik is meeting this challenge by providing an environment which fosters a life-long love of music and a joy in making music as an individual and as part of a group.

Ms. Mitchell points out, "The Kindermusik program is committed to a holistic and integrated approach to music education. It aims to give the child a total music experience at a time when the developmental state is set. Whether listening or moving, vocalizing or playing an instrument, creating or reading music or enjoying an ensemble, the focus is on a process not a performance."

Kindermusik classes, which will meet weekly at The Lakes Area Music Center, 911 Main St., Antioch will begin in early September. Parents who wish to have more details should call the Music Store at 395-5566.

Holmes will not run for school board

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Vernon Holmes, outspoken representative of BEST (Better Education Sensible Taxes), has decided not to run for ACHS school board despite earlier statements. According to Holmes, he has chosen not to run because of "family problems."

Holmes reports that his entire family has been harassed by threatening phone calls, minor vandalism, and even a death threat.

"Someone called and threatened to burn my house with my family in it," explained Holmes. "My house has been egged and someone has thrown apples at my car. Another caller told me that my daughter, who is a senior would not graduate."

When asked if he had reported this to local police he said he talked to them about the harassing phone calls.

Regardless of alleged harassment, Holmes is still very involved in ACHS. He independently hired an architect to propose alternatives to overcrowding problem at the school.

Also, Holmes is an advocate of either building a bridge or tunnel over the railroad tracks by the school. He is concerned that a student may get injured especially with the potential for increased commuter train traffic.

Pickard China is lauded with street name change

by CLAUDIA M. LENART
Lakeland Newspapers

The Village of Antioch plans to recognize one of Antioch's oldest and most well-known businesses, Pickard China, by renaming Corona Avenue, Pickard Avenue. The tribute is especially fitting in that this year marks the 100th anniversary for the fine china company.

The street was originally named for the Corona Pen Company which has long ceased doing business in Antioch. Pickard China has been in Antioch since 1937.

The business was started in 1893 in Edgerton, Wisconsin, by Wilder Austin Pickard, and then moved to Chicago in 1897.

Pickard's 100th anniversary will be celebrated on Saturday, Oct. 2, with an open house and tours of the factory, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. The new street sign will go up with a ceremony on that day.

Antioch's Community Development Coordinator Claude LeMere is coordinating the celebration with Pickard China.

Attempted theft

On Aug. 30 police responded to a complaint that a subject was chasing someone in Centennial park at 2:14 a.m. Allegedly, a homeowner had heard a noise and when looking out of his window discovered someone stealing his motorcycle. The homeowner gave chase and the motorcycle was dumped in the playground.

DWLS

Paul DeBenedetto, age 29, of Trevor, Wisconsin was arrested Aug. 30 when an officer observed him traveling at 46 mph in a 30 mph zone. When a check was done on the license, it was discovered that DeBenedetto had a valid Wisconsin license but his Illinois license was suspended.

Illegal Transportation

Brian Suchecki of Antioch and Ron Sokolski of Bristol, Wisconsin were arrested for illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages when they were allegedly observed drinking alcohol in the parking lot of Taco Bells on Route 173 on Aug. 26. Eric Pastick, age 19, also of Bristol was arrested for consumption of alcohol by a minor.

Snooze at the Zoo

Antioch's Tracy and Gregory Simonini and their children, Angel and Zackary, pitch their tent on the shore of Lake Evinrude at the Milwaukee County Zoo as part of Snooze at the Zoo, an overnight camping experience sponsored by the Zoological Society of Milwaukee County. The event also included a picnic dinner, bonfire and marshmallow roast. All proceeds will benefit the Zoological Society's education and conservation programs.

The Lakes Area Band is a non-profit organization sponsored by the Antioch Parks and Recreation. Lakes Area Community Band, directed by Linda Pankratz, is a year-round group whose purpose is to give former high school and college musicians another chance at performing.

The Discords are a popular a capella ensemble composed of Antioch High School graduates.

Cable Changes

An informational pamphlet was sent out to local cable TV customers explaining the rate changes and channel line-up changes. The cable television industry is now regulated by the Federal Communications Commission. For some customers, the changes will result in a lowering of cable television charges.

Focus on Family

St. Peter's School in Antioch is sponsoring the Focus on the Family film series "Turn Your Heart Toward Home." In the series, Dr. James C.

Dobson speaks openly about the threats today's kids and families face. His stirring front-line perspective motivates families to take a stand.

The series begins Sept. 12 and continues, Sept. 19 and 26, from 6 to 9 p.m. in the cafeteria. The program is being offered by the Faith Development Committee of St. Peter's School Family Association. For more information call 395-1567.

Rotary celebrates 25 years

The Antioch Rotary Club celebrated their 25th anniversary at a luncheon at Hogan's Restaurant located in the Antioch Country Club. Local officials were invited, along with the Rotary Club's District Governor Frank Schwermin.

Schwermin told the audience, "Rotarians believe in serving others. You have a great club in Antioch."

After congratulating the club, Schwermin discussed the future of the Rotary Club. "We plan to strengthen the programs you have in existence not add new ones. The job is still enormous. We just need more volunteers."

The Antioch Rotary Club is a public service organization dedicated to helping others. The club sponsors the exchange student program, promotes education by making generous donations to local schools, and many other good works.

The club is planning their annual auction. According to Chuck Miller, president, "The real celebration will be at our auction."

ACHS Poms are winners

This has been a great summer for the Antioch Sequoia Poms. The girls held their first summer clinic attended by over 40 young girls, with many requests for another. The girls practiced two days a week from 6:30 to 8 a.m. and all that hard work paid off. They attended Showstoppers Camp down at Eastern Illinois University for the first time and came out on top.

The Varsity squad received two Superior ratings (the highest you can get) for their performances of routines they learned at camp. They also received a trophy and were voted the most improved by the other squads and brought home the Dorothy "do better" trophy. The JV squad (their first time performing ever) took home a Good rating and an Excellent showing vast improvement while they were there.

All of the Varsity members received purple ribbons for excellence and were able to try out for the All Star and the All Pro teams. Seven of the squad members made the All Star team and performed at the Bears half-time during the Cincinnati-Bears exhibition game on Aug. 14. The members who performed were: Heather Crammond, Melissa Hague, Rebecca Masucci, Elizabeth Sobczak, Jamie Crank, June Lubkemann, Jamie Prorock.

Three of the squad members made the All Pro team and will be performing at Disney World in Florida for their gala Thanksgiving Parade and show. These members were Rebecca Masucci, Jamie Prorock and Elizabeth Sobczak.

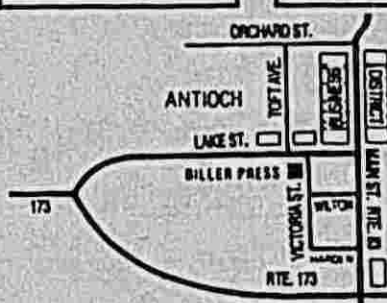

The squad did an excellent job.

Lake County Grading gets Orchard St. demolition bid

The Lake County Grading company was awarded the bid for the Orchard Street Demolition project. While the demolition will begin soon, construction on the site will not begin until the spring.

The project had an estimated cost of $85,000. Lake County Grading's bid was substantially lower at $51,000. The company was also the only one of the bidders that qualified by the state.

The Orchard Street project is a part of the bigger developmental plan which is expected to go before the Antioch Village Board for passage at the first scheduled meeting in September. The Orchard Street project will extend Orchard Street to Depot Street.

Fishing has no boundaries thanks to Dept. of Interior

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

On Sept. 18 and 19, the U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management will be sponsoring an event entitled "Fishing has no boundaries," which will be held at the

"Our event brings positive attitudes and a feeling of accomplishment, not only to the participants, but to all who contribute their time and efforts to the program."

—Bureau of Land Management

Chain O' Lakes State Park in Spring Grove, for anglers with disabilities.

Last year the Milwaukee-based district office hosted the first event at the state park, in cooperation with the Amerifish Corporation.

According to Sylvia Jordan of the bureau, for several years the event was held in Hayward, Wisconsin, which still takes place every year. "It's quite a big event," said Jordan.

Last year's program at the state park in Spring Grove went so well they decided to have it again, Jordan explained. "I think it was a really good opportunity (for the disabled)," said Jordan.

According to the bureau, this event will again introduce and instruct participants about devices that will assist them in fishing regardless of their disability, and give them the opportunity to explore, gain some self confidence, plus fish alongside some of the best professional fishermen in the industry.

It is the goal of this year's event to accommodate any and all disabilities as well as giving them the experience of a lifetime.

The Chicagoland FHN event is not for profit and is strictly volunteer-run. "Our event brings positive attitudes and a feeling of accomplishment, not only to the participants, but to all who contribute their time and efforts to the program," according to officials of the land management bureau.

Antioch's Troop 92 on Arkansas' Buffalo River.

Troop 92 Scouts canoe Arkansas' Buffalo River

Scouts and leaders from Antioch's Boy Scouts of America Troop 92 completed a 70 mile canoe trip on the wild and beautiful Buffalo River in northwest Arkansas. The ten Scouts and five leaders entered the river at Ponca near Harrison and exited at Tyler Bend. Although shallow water during the first few days caused the group to portage their canoes over considerable distances, the troop had an excellent time. Along the way they saw bobcat, vultures and countless snakes and turtles.

The scouts who completed the trip and earned BSA's 50 miler patch were James Dalgaard, John Dunklau, Eric Francke, Geoff and John Landrum, Jesse Saltzman, Johnathan and Stephan Sladek and Brian and Steve Weston. The adult leaders were Committee Chairperson Barb Brongel, Scoutmaster Ray Landrum and Assistant Scoutmasters Bob Brown, Dave Edwards and Dick Weston.

In other activities, Troop 92 won first place awards at the Lakes District Klondike Derby and First Aid Meet and fourth place in the Antioch July 4 parade. Scout Steve Weston served on staff at the Camp Makajawan, Wisconsin Junior Leadership Training Program and Scouts Eric Francke and Stefan Sladek attended the camp for one week.

Troop 92 Scouts are looking forward to important events: The Great Annual Pumpkin Sale at Antioch Auto Parts on Saturdays from noon to 5 p.m. beginning late September, and the Annual All-You-Can-Eat Spaghetti Dinner on Sunday, Oct. 17 at Antioch's Moose Lodge 525. Troop 92 is sponsored by Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525 and meets at the Antioch Scout House on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. For information contact Scoutmaster Ray Landrum at 395-0958.

Girl Scouts plan year

What do a roller skating party, a community service project, a water park trip, and a sleep over have in common? All are annual events planned for Girl Scouts in the Antioch area. "This will be an exciting year for all age levels. We don't want anyone to miss out. That is why our fall registration drive is so important," said Linda Schmidt, Co-Manager of Service Unit 716 in Antioch.

A special registration event will be held at the Antioch Scout House on Friday, Sept. 17 from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Sept. 18 from 9 to 1 p.m. The Scout House is located on Route 83 in Antioch just north of the library. Yearly registration for Girl Scouts U.S.A. is $6 which includes activity insurance. Parents can register their daughters at this time and Girl Scout volunteers will be available to answer any questions.

Girl Scouting is available to girls from kindergarten age through high school. Adults interested in volunteering their time and talents, and sharing in the fun, may obtain information during this registration event.

What readers are saying.....

Lipservice corrected

Editor:

I believe that the Lipservice section is doing a great disservice to the readers by publishing complaints which aren't true. The three examples which I take exception to are:

1. The person who said that all traffic must stop for stopped school buses, including four-lane roads, was wrong. A little investigation by your staff by calling the Sec. of State or State Police or reading page 40 of "Rules of the Road" would have found out that "You do not need to stop if you are traveling in the opposite direction of the bus, but you should drive cautiously." My wife and I ended in a ditch when someone stopped and they didn't have to.

2. The non-driver from Ingleside knows not of what he or she alleges. The speed limits on Wilson Road are posted at 50 mph from 120 to 134, the speed limit of Fish Lake Road from Nippersink to Route 120 is posted at 45 mph, and I'm sure that the speed limit on Route 120 will probably be 55 mph when construction is completed. Also, what residential areas?

3. And last are the two allegations that headlights must be turned on whenever you put the wipers on. I called the Sec. of State office in Libertyville and they checked their computer and found no such law. Why be half safe? I called the State Police office in Elgin and they said this was not the law, that this legislation is going to be introduced. These two people were wrong, wrong, wrong.

William Runge
Ingleside

Real record hidden

Editor:

As head of Lake County Term Limits, I'm particularly incensed at how our Congressman for Life John Porter uses our tax dollars to keep himself in office.

On June 5, 1991, Porter voted against cutting $21 million from Congress' "free" mailing budget. On Nov. 6, 1991, Porter voted to kill a resolution preventing Congress from using tax dollars and government lawyers to fight term limits.

Lake County's real budget cutter, Congressman Phil Crane, voted opposite of Porter on many measures. But Crane is a politically incorrect pro-lifer, so he's the target of unceasing media hostility.

Career politicians hide their real record behind a token "spending freeze" and phony "awards" and a liberal media that lets their "pets" get away with it. That's why we have a $4 plus trillion debt.

Grant D. Noble, Chairman
Lake County Term Limits
Lake Forest

Republicans misleading

Editor:

Recent news reports seem to suggest House Minority Leader Lee Daniels may have some new found power base from which to pursue his political agenda.

However, as a state representative representing a suburban area in Lake and Cook counties, the real happenings in Springfield are very different. What I saw and participated in this year, was a spirit of bi-partisanship where Democrats formed coalitions with Republicans to convince leadership to pass legislation that helps their respective geographic areas.

A perfect example of this spirit of cooperation includes our efforts to increase education funding statewide by $145 million—and the Democratic Suburban Caucus flexed its muscle to persuade leadership in the Illinois House to make sure the suburban schools received a substantial part of this increase.

We also worked to end a $6.30 daily bed tax (the "granny tax") on nursing home patients. That priority also became a reality.

Other suburban legislative interests were advanced by suburban House members this year. We passed a plan out of the House to give senior citizens and homeowners increased property tax exemptions. We got a property tax cap referendum and pushed legislation to attract more jobs and businesses to our great state.

It is definitely a new era in politics. Anyone claiming that House Republicans are a great new power in the House is misleading.

Lauren Beth Gash
State Representative, 60th District
Highland Park

Enjoys noisy sirens

Editor:

I thank God everytime I hear fire and rescue squad sirens that they are not for my house. Other village's may use beepers, etc., but this is how it's done in Antioch and always has been done.

When you hear sirens at night say a little prayer that they are helping someone and that someone isn't you. And if for some reason, units are on their way to your house, the sound of those sirens will let you know that help is on the way and at no charge.

Laurie Stahl
Antioch

Time to regroup

Opportunity at hand to pursue other tax enhancing avenues in recreation development.

Now that the Illinois Gaming Commission has assigned the last riverboat gambling license to a location other than Lake County, there is a tendency to fix blame over what went wrong; it's tempting on the part of gambling supporters to point a finger as to the responsibility for losing a potential tax bonanza.

The fact is that the Gaming Commission did exactly what Illinois legislators intended when they wrote the riverboat gambling law—use the granting of a license where it can be used for the greatest economic benefit of all.

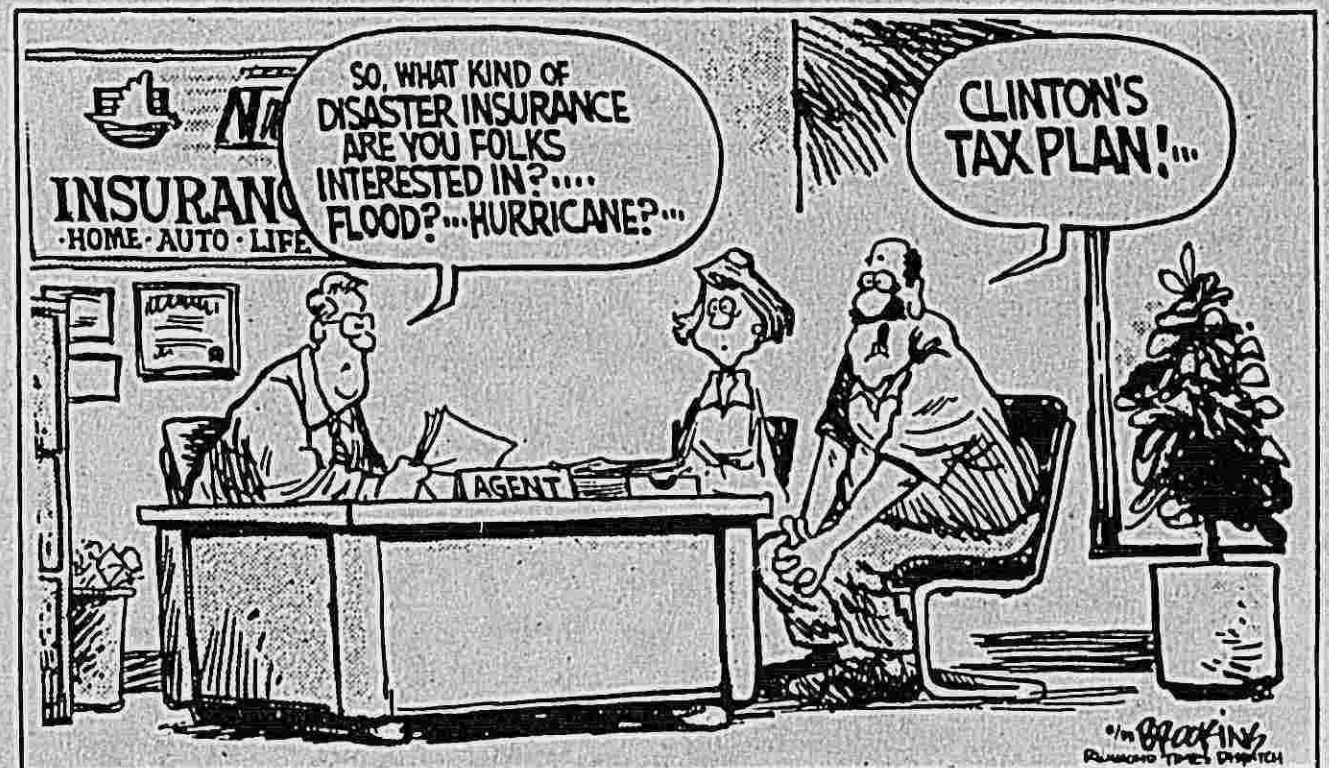

As it turned out, the Fox Riverboat Limited Partnership's greatest obstacle was establishing economic need. In the eyes of some of the commissioners, it is doubtful whether the Antioch site ever had a chance. Economic need simply was very difficult to establish for Lake County, one of the wealthiest county's in the nation and an area that just landed a monumental plum from the federal government in the designation of Great Lakes Naval Training Center at the Navy's single recruit training site.

The Riverboat partners did an excellent job of presenting their case. In doing so, the partners emphasized the untapped tourist potential for northwest Lake County and the Chain O' Lakes. Reviving the excursion boats to visit the historic lotus beds was an imaginative and innovative way to capitalize on one of Lake County's greatest natural resources.

A century ago, the Chain O' Lakes was a tourist mecca. We share the enthusiasm for recapturing that era as a tool for enhancement of the local economy and expansion of the tax base. The Riverboat partners were ready to commit $12 million for development of the floating casinos at Antioch. What's wrong with the partners directing their investment dollars toward another type of recreational development?

For many years, construction of a destination-type convention-hotel complex on the scale of Marriott's Lincolnshire has been urged as the cornerstone for a major tourism revival in northwest Lake County. A lot of the pieces already are in place. It's time to regroup, not point fingers.

Grandparents club gets some new members

by BILL SCHROEDER

Membership in Grandparents Unanimous looks like fun and exciting times will be in store.

Erika Tarin Schroeder arrived safe and sound at Lake Forest Hospital with mom doing beautifully and the new father doing surprisingly well. Congratulations to Lisa and Bill on the new member of One Man's Family.

Joining the ranks of grandparents was as easy as falling off a log. The hard part for mom and pop is going to be getting used to being called grandma and grandpa.

This fledgling grandfather got off to a flying start, cradling Erika on our first visit like a seasoned vet and even operating one-handed for a moment or two. And she snoozed through the entire episode. Erika's two grandmothers are more cautious even if they're more experienced caring for babies.

WISE WORDS—Rich Anderson, long time member of the College of Lake County board of directors and a past chairman, offers good advice for future school board members now that campaigns for the November elections are heating up.

Anderson would like to see more school board members get involved with the financial side of education. "It seems that too many board members are attracted to the curriculum and program side and not enough to finance," Anderson observed. A keen observation. Dollar problems are left up to the superintendent and business manager.

In sizing up candidates for your local school board, make it a point to find out what they know about where the dollars come from and where they go. An alarming number of school board members are totally over-matched when it comes to school financing. Any wonder that so many districts are experiencing money problems.

HELPING KIDS—Rick Breeden of Wauconda Orchards is rounding up support to stage the first annual Pumpkin

Magic Festival for children with disabilities in October. There will be a lot of fun things for the youngsters plus a presentation of the "Pumpkin Giant," a musical play. Persons interested in helping Rick and co-sponsors, Thrust and National Lekotek Center, are invited to call 708-328-0001. Merchants can help by taking an ad in the Festival coloring book.

LINK TO PAST—A different time hereabouts will come alive Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 25 and 26, at Lake County Museum for the Farm Heritage Tractor and Steam Show at Lakewood Forest Preserve, Wauconda.

Two days will be devoted to threshing demonstrations, displaying gasoline and steam engines, pioneer handicrafts and antique cars. Co-sponsored by the Lake County Farm Heritage Assn., there will be a nominal charge of $4 for adults and $2 for children.

Local farmers replaced their threshing rigs with combines 50 years ago, about the end of World War II. The combines ended a decades-old tradition of harvesting rings where the men and boys shared hard work and farm wives and daughters served sumptuous "thresher men's meals" at noon time.

COLLEGE FIRST—College of Lake County is tying into an entirely new base of support with the formation of an alumni association. The new CLC alum group will hold its first meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 6, at the Grayslake campus. Why didn't someone think of this brilliant idea before? Probably because alumni associations are a result of numbers and the aging process. CLC simply wasn't old enough until recently.

Self defense a hot commodity at academy

HI YAW! are two words that the members of K. H. Kim's Tae Kwon Do Karate Academy in Lake Zurich shout often during their workouts, and also something that can startle a passerby — or attacker.

The school opened four years ago at 783 W. Main St. in the Eagle Shopping Center at Rtes. 12 and 22 to offer both children and adults classes in relaxation, concentration, meditation and self defense, as well as Tae Kwon Do.

The school has a lot of children who want to emulate the Teenage Ninja Mutant Turtles, said Brian Golden, director of marketing and sales, but once they step onto the mat, they learn much more.

Through teaching the martial art, Golden said, they teach children, ages 4 to 15, discipline, respect, self-control, concentration and how to focus themselves, which carries with them at school and at home. They learn to not only respect themselves, but their teachers and parents.

"So, you are really learning to do something for life," he said, "not just how to kick a bag."

Of the 200 members, 60 percent are children, some of whom have been brought to the academy by their parents because they may be shy or have discipline problems. Golden said they have a good amount of four and five year olds who they work with to help build up their self confidence.

One of those five year olds, Kristen Milosch, recently won a national Tae Kwon Do championship for six through eight year olds.

Golden said the school is not like a military academy, and although the kids may think they are just having fun, the parents know what they are learning is actually more practical.

"It is really like a family here," he said.

Over the years more and more women have come to the school to learn self defense techniques and how to protect themselves against an attacker or attackers.

The school offers specific classes for women in self defense and rape prevention, and have one coming up on Sept. 19 at noon at the school.

Tae Kwon Do is also a good way to stay in shape and relieve stress through meditation, relaxation, and by exerting yourself, and also increases flexibility and strength, said Golden, who is himself going to become a black belt in October.

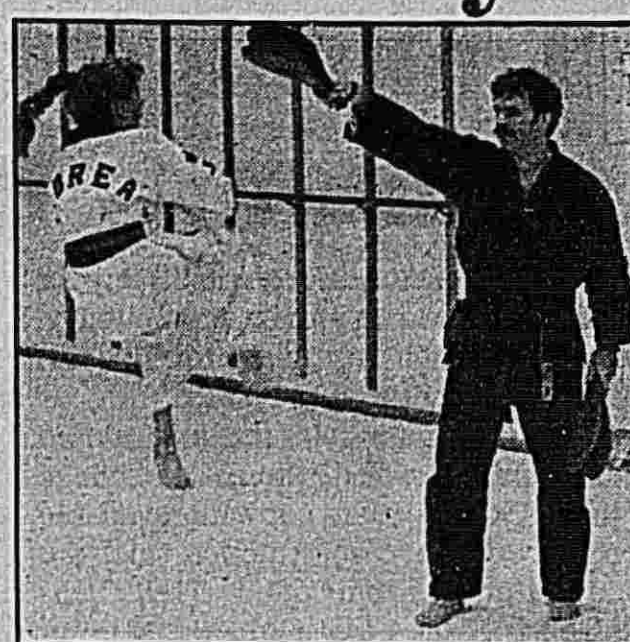

They offer 50 percent discounts to police officers, firefighters and paramedics, and just last week had two Fox Lake officers join.

The academy is one of five owned by Grand Master Ki Hong Kim, an eighth-degree black belt. Other locations include Northbrook, Libertyville and two in Schaumburg.

Golden said they have about 24 classes per week, all of which are taught by Master Kurt Lang, a fourth degree black belt in Tae Kwon Do and third degree in kick boxing, with 15 years experience in the field.

Kim's academies will be hosting the 1994 U.S. Junior Olympic championships to be held at the Rosemont Horizon in July. Golden said they are expecting more than 7,000

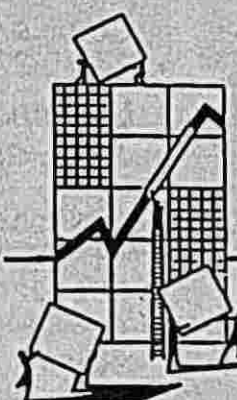

Youngsters learn discipline, respect, self-control, concentration and focus at the K.H. Kim's Tae Kwon Do Karate Academy in Lake Zurich. Above, Master Kurt Lang, of the Kim Academy, instructs two promising youngsters on various kicking styles.

competitors and more than 25,000 people to attend.

The Lake Zurich location is the largest Kim school and is open seven days a week from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and 9:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. on Sunday. For any questions, contact Golden at the school at 438-5046.

Investment Trends

$1.78 a share, this company yields a nice 5.3 percent. The yield is very attractive to more conservative investors, especially considering the 3 percent yields of today's CD's and savings accounts. On Aug. 17 the analysts lowered PGL's estimated earnings per share to $2.15 for 1993 and $2.20 for 1994.

Abbott Labs—Abbott is a broadly diversified healthcare company based in Abbott Park. It operates in several distinct sectors including pharmaceuticals, nutritional products (infant formula), hospital products, and diagnostic chemicals and machinery. With a recent price of $26 a share, and a dividend of 68 cents a share, ABT yields around 2.6 percent. Having a P/E ratio of 14, this stock is seen as a hold for investors seeking growth and income.

Though not a leader in any area of drug therapy, only two of the top 100 selling drugs are produced by ABT, although Similac and Isomil infant formulas are strong products for ABT.

One of ABT's strengths is in the area of hospital equipment and lab testing equipment, although with the onset of managed competition, ABT and others must become more innovative to maintain their market presence.

ABT also produces well known Selsun Blue and Murine as over the counter products, in addition to some good new products in the pipeline, but not enough to make up for sales losses from competition in other areas.

The eight home styles that are featured at the Cambridge Series homes of College Trail in Grayslake are currently available for Oakwood. Pre-construction sales are being offered at the College Trail Cambridge Series sales center where four fully-furnished model homes are open for the public to view. "The first section of homes being offered at Oakwood are located in one of the best areas of the community. In fact, most homesites include mature oak trees, which is why we named the community 'Oakwood,'" said Richard J. Brown, president of Cambridge Homes.

Investors Frustrated And Disgusted With 3% CD's Say They Are Victims Of Bank's Greed.

Naperville, IL—Today's retirees and others who are counting on their nest eggs to provide for them, are frustrated and angry. They feel that the banks are taking advantage of the economy to create obscene profits.

A local retiree was quoted as saying, "The bank is still charging over 17% on credit card balances, and paying me a lousy 3.1% on my CD! This is unfair. I have worked my whole life, and always taken care of myself. Now, in the last three years, I have seen all my expenses go up, and my CD income drop to less than half of what it was! The banks should be ashamed of themselves. How am I going to make it?"

The feelings of this woman seem to be universal, when people are asked about this touchy topic.

Although CD's are insured by an agency of the US Government, and alternatives may not be, people can do much better with their savings.

As with anything else, knowledge is the key. The banks are making more money than ever, and hope the average person will not bother to learn about their alternatives. The bankers want people to keep their money tied up at these disgusting low rates, and know a lot of us will not move because of the fear of the unknown.

A FREE REPORT called, The Little Known Secret To Beating CD's, has been made available for the first time. The report explains, in simple language, the almost unheard of method to take care of yourself, and tells you how to stop being at the mercy of the banks. You can call

Legislators say school funding must change

Speak at Lake Zurich Chamber breakfast

by SPENCER SCHEIN
Lakeland Newspapers

With Chicago officials continuing to ask for more money for city schools, local state legislatures say the system needs to be changed.

Speaking at a Lake Zurich Chamber of Commerce legislative breakfast at the Elia Area Public Library last week, State Sen. William E. Peterson and State Reps. Verna L. Clayton and Al Salvi told civic and village leaders the suburban areas will be paying more in property taxes to fund local schools because other areas cannot.

Peterson said Chicago has no referendum process and must go to the state legislature for relief, unlike local school districts.

Clayton said the amount of money to fund schools in the area coming from property taxes was close to 95 percent, with the state chipping in for the rest.

The suburban districts are fortunate because of the affluence surrounding them, she said, and added they should hold some responsibility to help those less fortunate districts.

"In my mind, the question is to what extent do we have to help them," Clayton said.

Peterson put some of the blame on the amount of different school districts in the state. Instead of having a K-12 community unit districts, such as Lake Zurich District 95 or Wauconda District 118, the state also has K-8 and 9-12 districts, which he said are all clamoring for money in Springfield.

"I am a big proponent of local control," Peterson said. Approximately 600 of the close to 1,000 districts within the state are unit districts. Peterson said Illinois has the most school districts other than Texas.

And with only 12 of the 102 counties having an increase in their assessment evaluation within the past 10 years, he said Lake County will always be exporters of dollars to other school districts.

"We will never have a windfall in our area," Peterson said.

He said smaller school districts should start consolidating if they want more state money, which is something that occurred in Highland Park, where three school districts were recently combined into one.

Salvi said he liked what Michigan legislatures recently did by eliminating property taxes to pay for schools. The only downside is that they have no alternative, he said.

He said many elderly citizens have been near tears when they have told him how they feel they are being pushed out of their homes by the increasing property taxes, as they have limited incomes.

Cooperation nets suspect

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

With the epithet of "Monkey," police searched for 30 days to find a transient individual who had apparently been sexually assaulting juvenile females in the Fox Lake area over the past month.

Through extensive investigations with the Round Lake Beach police and the Vernon Hills police departments, Fox Lake succeeded last week in apprehending 19-year old Jamie D. Domoleczny at a Round Lake Beach restaurant around midnight, Aug. 25.

The suspect, although not known at the time to have the CB handle "Monkey" was previously questioned by Fox Lake police as a suspicious person.

Domoleczny, who uses the nicknames "Monkey" or "Monkeyman" was arrested on Aug. 25 at Thomas Restaurant after a tip regarding his whereabouts from an informant was given to police.

The first sexual assault report processed by Fox Lake police occurred on Aug. 12 to a juvenile who said that she was standing outside her Fox Lake home when the suspect exposed himself to her. "He then took it a step further, substantiating the act with criminal sexual assault," said the arresting officer, C. "Joe" Gliniewicz.

Then on Aug. 17 Fox Lake police were able to obtain warrants for Domoleczny's arrest after his identification was determined, sparked by a second similar sexual assault report.

Because of Domoleczny's apparent bohemian lifestyle, according to police, the offender resided short periods in various communities, making the search a difficult one for law enforcement. His last known address was in Vernon Hills, said Gliniewicz.

Armed with a photograph of the alleged offender given to a young woman in which he autographed it "Love, Monkeyman," Fox Lake police along with Round Lake Beach department officers were able to capture Domoleczny at the restaurant.

Upon confronting the subject, according to Gliniewicz, he gave a false name to police, ultimately resulting in a charge of an attempt to obstruct justice. Initially, according to reports, Domoleczny told officers that his name was Tim D. Deaneck.

The positive identification of the suspect came to police when they observed two scars on his left arm, which appeared to be the start of some homemade tattoos, according to police. One of the scars showed an inverted cross, and the other was a swastika, said Gliniewicz.

"Much to our surprise," Gliniewicz said, "there were two outstanding warrants in Vernon Hills for theft of fire arms, which is a felony." Two other incidents in Round Lake Beach, previously, resulted in misdemeanor charges against Domoleczny, added the officer. One stemmed from a 1992 arrest in which Round Lake Beach charged the suspect with disorderly conduct.

According to police, Domoleczny was not cooperative upon his arrest, and once at the police station, he refused having his photo taken or being fingerprinted.

Domoleczny was charged by Fox Lake police with sexual assault, and disorderly conduct as well as the attempt to obstruct justice.

Anderson fund raiser, a Blarney Island success

by TINA SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

The annual fund-raiser for Lake County Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson held at Blarney's Island last week transpired into a larger event than in previous years, and was a big success, according to Bill Hall, chief deputy treasurer.

Although a total on the amount raised has not been determined yet, last Wednesday's amount was "certainly larger than prior years," said Hall. The chief deputy treasurer explained that because cost on the tickets was, $15 for one, or two for $25, and because it was a casual affair, not an enormous amount of money was raised, yet still higher than other times.

Hall noted that Anderson prefers the casual fund-raisers on the island, rather than an elegant dinner party. "If you knew Red, you'd see he likes it being more casual and seeing a lot of people out (at the functions)," said Hall of his boss with the well-suited nickname.

Anderson, according to Hall has captured the title of Treasurer for the county over the past five terms. Each term is four years long, and many of Anderson's fund-raisers have been held at Blarney Island, bringing in people on pontoon boats from all over.

Some of the notable people who attend the event, packing the little seasonal island, were Lake County officials including Sheriff Clint Grinnell; Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt; Fred Foreman, former states attorney; States Attorney Mike Waller; the city of Waukegan's mayor, William "Bill" Durkin; most of the judges of the nineteenth judicial circuit court; State Representative of the 62nd district and Chairman of the Republican Party for the county, Robert Churchill; State Senator William E. Peterson of the 28th district; Frank Nustra, county recorder; Robert "Bob" Depke, chairman of the Lake County board; Robert Grever, county board member, and "quite a few other county board members," according to Hill. "Word of mouth got out, and also a lot of people that came last year, were there this time" Hill said.

The Grass Lake island party provided entertainment including a disc jockey and Ivanhoe entrepreneur Art Wiech's antics. The owner of Wiech's Inn performs each year at his friend Anderson's fund-raisers, often donning capricious outfits and entertaining the crowds with his skits and dancing.

Prankster Art Wiech of Ivanhoe pauses for a moment before boarding a pontoon boat to Blarney's Island, to say farewell to his long time girl friend Dolly. Wiech brought Dolly out with him to the island so that Lake County Treasurer Jack "Red" Anderson could also say farewell.—Photo by Gene Gabry

Salvi will seek reelection to state house in 1994

by RHONDA VINZANT
Lakeland Newspapers

State Rep. Al Salvi wants to make a clear statement to constituents that he likes his new job and he doesn't intend to make a run for the 8th Congressional seat held by Congressman Phil Crane. He has officially announced his decision to run for reelection to the state legislator in the November 1994 general election.

The freshman representative, who was elected last November, feels his first session in the state house was very successful and he wants to continue to fight for what his constituents want.

"I'm very proud of what I have accomplished so far," said Salvi. "I had a very successful first session and I've learned a lot. I've passed some significant bills but there is a lot more to do."

Salvi says he has done a lot of polling of his constituents since taking office and has found that they are most concerned about taxes and want to see deregulation of businesses by the state. "I'm a constant voice against higher taxes and limited government," Salvi said. "I represent a very conservative part of the state. People overwhelmingly tell me they want lower property taxes."

Salvi calls constituent services a hallmark of his first eight-months in office. He has a full-time legislative aid and two part-time aids. Additionally, his office is manned from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. "I'm very proud of that," Salvi said. "I want the people to know I am here to listen to them. There is always someone in my office."

Task Force seeks to unify residents racially

by MARK HAHN

Lakeland Newspapers

Uniting Lake County residents together to help educate them on racial unity and harmony is the challenge of the Lake County Unity Task Force.

"The idea for the task force came about from the situations involving Rodney King and Malice Green," said Wadell Brooks, a community activist and resident of North Chicago who co-organized and sponsored the program. "We want to ensure that problems such as these do not occur in Lake County. The task force promotes fairness, justice and unification. We also promote love between all groups and this makes for a better community."

Residents who attend meetings of the task force watch films, listen to guest speakers, and participate in programs to help enlighten them on race unity.

"At our first meeting, there was a beautiful feeling of unity in the air; sometimes experiences are hard to put into words," said Brooks. "The people who attended our first meeting were very uplifted."

About 75 people attended the first meeting of the task force held at Daisy's Resource Development Center in North Chicago. A film, "The Story of O," a generic situation in which "o" could be handicapped, female, left handed, etc. and the problems "o" would face trying to enter a majority group was shown before the talk. Brooks had been told that only five people might attend, but he was gratified with the response.

"Deerfield, Lindenhurst, Antioch, Zion, and other communities throughout the county were represented to discuss race unity," said

Brooks. "Our ultimate goal is to foster ways to strengthen unity among all people, and our group was so excited that we decided to have another meeting Sept. 23 to discuss what is racism and what can be done to combat it."

Dr. Robert C. Henderson, secretary-general of the Baha'is of the United States, was on hand to speak on "The Vision of Race Unity: America's most Challenging Issue."

"I think the essential point is that racism is the most challenging issue concerning America- its tearing apart our cities and threatens the internal order of the nation itself," said Henderson. "Concerned citizens need to turn their attention urgently to the issue of race unity, and this must go beyond tolerance and has to build bridges of trust and cooperation between races. We have to do this for everyone's sake- its right, its just, its imperative."

"Racism is America's most challenging issue, all you have to do is pick up a newspaper every day and you can see the statistics," said Antioch resident James T. Polley, co-organizer of the task force. "It's obvious of the disparities between blacks and whites in terms of economics, education, and strong beliefs of there being only one race, but there is only one race and that one race is that we're all human beings."

"To overcome racism, it will take all people of good will, and the important thing is that we don't want to be bogged down with programs and committees. We want to go in the direction that people want to go. It's my hope that we will take what we learn and use it in our daily lives. We just want to be very practical- the bottom line is transforming people's hearts."

For more information on the task force contact Polley, 395-0762 or Brooks, 689-3766.

Six Flags worker facing charges

Lakeland Newspapers

The Julia Belle Swain is one of only five authentic steamboats still operating in North America, shown here waiting for passengers to board from Galena.

WEEKEND RIVER RUN

Rollin... rollin... rollin on the river.

The Mississippi River north of the Quad Cities is open. The flooding in the south still limits traffic needing to travel in that direction but pleasure boats in the northern section are once again floating merrily along about three hours away from Lake County.

You say you aren't much for gambling? That's okay. River Cruises offers an alternative with a two-day round trip cruise from Le Claire, Iowa, to Galena, Ill.

The Twilight is a diesel-powered Victorian replica with room for 150 passengers. For purists, the 105-passenger Julia Belle Swain is one of only five authentic steamboats still operating in North America. The two boats depart from Le Claire on alternating days.

Business during the past couple of years has been so good for the company that the crews on both boats were being run ragged. That all changed when the river began to rise. Toward the end of June, one of the locks was closed. For a week the company still struggled to run cruises with one boat below the lock and one above, shuttling passengers around the lock between the two.

When the river continued to rise, traffic was shut down completely and cancellations came pouring in as vacationers hurriedly made alternate plans.

On July 23 the north section of the river was opened up again and the pleasure boats were allowed to operate.

12:30 p.m. and takes only about six and one-half hours.

On a recent cruise, the Julia Belle Swain had 60 reservations, but changing plans because of the previous floods had reduced the passenger list to only 23.

"People don't realize we're back in operation. Everybody thinks the whole river is still closed," lamented Captain Vaughn.

by SUZIE REED

Those 23 brave souls received royal treatment on the voyage. As the boat sailed, the captain chatted from the pilot house as the passengers explored, viewing boats, bridges and river towns from various vantage points on the three decks. Some lazed on the deck chairs or photographed scenery while the vessel steamed its way upstream. It rocked gently as the big red sternwheel propelled it along. The unseasonably cool weather that day precipitated brisk sales of sweat-shirts at the Gift Shop.

A few visible signs of the flooding were still in evidence along the shoreline: brown sections of vegetation and high water marks on buildings along the shore. Idle barges and towboats were tied up at various points waiting for the river to go down to the south.

Traffic on the decks increased as the boat approached Lock 13. The captain and crew explained the procedure as the passengers watched the water level rise in the lock.

"The river gets in your blood," said regular passenger Kathryn Oesereich. She became a river rat when her son was a crew member and now has a tradition of sailing the first and last cruises of the season. An accomplished calliope player, she provided old-time tunes periodically during the 63-mile trip. Note: for some reason the name of the instrument is pronounced CAL'-EE-OPE on the river.

"Being on the river is the greatest thing," she said as the boat steamed toward her home in Galena.

Amenities on board include table games, a full bar, frequent meals and snacks, bingo games in which passengers may win coupons for the gift shop or bar, and a variety of entertainment: a singing trio, can-can girls and a jazz guitarist were on hand for that journey.

A notable point in the return trip was a moment when the sister ships pulled along side one another in the same direction to exchange entertainers.

The cruise includes lodging at the Chestnut Mountain Resort near Galena. When the boat arrives, passengers are ferried to the resort dock and have the options of riding to the hotel via ski lift or bus. The resort features all the usual attractions plus the Alpine Slide, a 2,500-foot summer toboggan ride using wheeled sleds on a fiberglass track. Tickets for this ($3 or 5/$12) are not included in the room price.

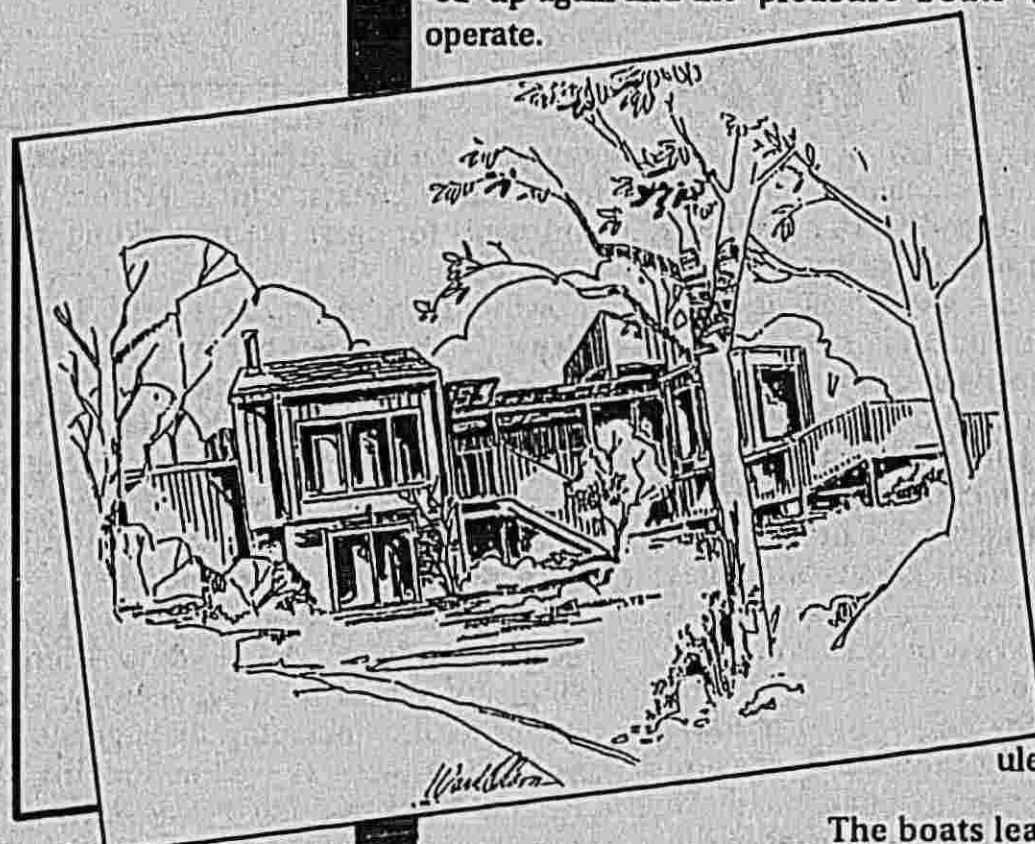

Guests are given breakfast passes and invited to join their fellow passengers on a trip to Galena the following morning. The tour includes a stop at U.S. Grant's home and about two hours free time in Galena before returning to the dock.

Because the cruises leave fairly early in the morning and return in the evening, most passengers prefer to arrange lodging before and after the cruise. River Cruises includes a list of recommended accommodations with trip confirmation.

A fitting alternative to a routine motel is a bed & breakfast. The brochure lists several, but The Woodlands is the only one to offer shuttle service to the dock, about 20 minutes away.

There, Betsy Wallace and her daughter Erika, 12, share their secluded home with weary travelers. Wallace is a gracious hostess, sharing a glass of wine or a cup of coffee as she shares some of her fascinating experiences as a world traveler.

Guests will share the grounds with a number of curious wild creatures that come up near the house to investigate. Friendly raccoons frequently show up on (Continued on page 20)

The boats leave Le Claire at 8:30 a.m. and arrive at their destination around 7 p.m. The return trip downriver leaves about

The Woodlands is "out in the middle of nowhere," as one guest put it (fortunately, Wallace does give excellent directions), with small but comfortable homey rooms that are stories in themselves.

The Scandinavian Room contains souvenirs from Wallace's life in Bergen, Norway. The South of the Border Room is furnished with artifacts from her travels in South America. A third guestroom, called the Viewing Room, has large windows with a panoramic view of the surrounding woods and meadows.

Terry Branstad, the governor of Iowa, has been a guest at the Woodlands and rated the house "an invaluable asset to Iowa." He, like others, appreciated the feeling of spaciousness that allows guests to feel like they are outside even when they are in the house.

The house itself is an eclectic modern mix that blends well with the natural environment. An in-ground pool is available for summer guests; winter visitors will find trails for cross-country skiing and sledding.

Although modest about her culinary talents, Wallace offers her guests delicious fare and seems to be able to produce anything they may want almost before they realize they want it. During an evening at a backyard campfire, she heard a wish for marshmallows and returned in a few minutes with the makings for s'mores.

For a restful weekend of relaxation and TLC, nothing beats the old days. There's still plenty of time for a fall getaway. The two-day cruise, including six large meals and three snacks as well as lodging at Chestnut Mountain, is $195 (double). The cruises run through the third week of October. The toll free number is 1-800-331-1467. Room rates at the Woodlands (year-round) under the wing of Betsy Wallace begin at $79.50. Call her at 1-800-257-3177.

Getting married in Las Vegas

by JIM WARNKEN

PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Some people still think of a Las Vegas wedding as appropriate only for a sailor and his best girl, just before his ship sails.

Well tell that to Bruce Willis and Demi Moore, Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward, Elvis and Priscilla, Frank and Mia, Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme, Brigitte Bardot and Roger Vadim, Mickey Rooney and several ex-wives. They, and many others to whom money was no object, found Las Vegas' wedding chapels more than satisfactory to tie the knot in.

Las Vegas does have its appeal for a fast, cheap wedding. There is no waiting period, no blood test and, in the city that never sleeps, the court house is open until midnight Monday through Thursday. On weekends they're open 24 hours a day! $25 for the license, and another $25 for the ceremony fee, and you're married.

However, it is Las Vegas' many wedding chapels, offering to provide everything but the bride and groom, that are the real appeal of a Las Vegas wedding.

These chapels offer wedding packages that include anything from bouquets and boutonnieres, photos and video recordings, limo pick-up, music, tuxedos and gowns, and even the wedding ring! Honeymoon suites right up to a $900 a day penthouse suite at Caesar's can be included. Short on cash? Most accept Visa or Mastercard!

While there are many beautiful chapels, a couple of my favorites are the Candlelight, next to the Riviera, and the Chapel of the Fountains, which is located, of all places, in the Circus Circus Hotel.

A complete wedding package, right down to fee for the minister, can be arranged by (guess who) your local travel agent.

'Oliver' fresh family entertainment at Candlelight Theater

Finding a movie or a play that one can take the entire family to see is almost an impossibility these days unless it wears a Disney label.

The powers that be at the Candlelight Dinner Theater have decided that another "Big D" label is capable of doing a similar and just as enjoyable a job, one tagged with the name of Dickens, putting the immortal "Charles in Charge" of this musical based on "Oliver Twist."

by GLORIA DAVIS

So Bill Pullins and Anthony D'Angelo, the emperors of dinner theater, chose the Tony Award-winning musical "Oliver" for their fall-holiday run.

Not only does this fresh, bouncy and colorful new version of the 1960's London, Broadway and Hollywood smash hit offer drama and music fit for the whole family, it introduces a tuneful classic to a new generation of theater goers when Mom and Dad bring the kids along.

Candlelight elder statesman Lee Peltz brings his unforgettable Fagin back to the theater in the round. This time his Fagin is softer and more mystical, more of a gruff but kindly seer who oversees a ring of homeless boy thieves in Victorian England.

Paris Schultz is an angelic if understated Oliver, with a clear innocent voice, while Don Forston's rather comical and blustery Mr. Bumble is a standout.

Stealing the show in this production are Stephen Gnojewski, who delivers the "Artful Dodger" on a smudged but engaging silver platter, and Mary Robin Roth, who commands the stage when she is on it.

Her bawdy but benevolent Nancy

brings down the house with her interpretations of "Oom-Pah-Pah," and "Whenever He Needs Me."

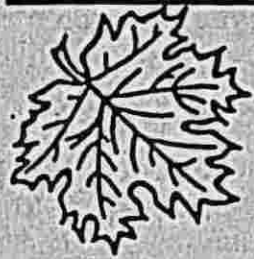

Veteran actor, Ray Frewen, is just blustery enough as the evil Bill Sikes and Karlah Hamilton and Rosalyn Rahn, playing the shrewish Mrs. Corney and Mrs. Sowerberry, respectively, are Cockney enough for even the most discriminate Brit history buff.

As always, the "Consider Yourself" number led by the Artful Dodger exhilarates, and "Where is Love" brings the proverbial tear to the eye.

"Oliver" has kids, pathos, comedy, murder and the kind of songs even the most tone-deaf audience members can leave humming. What more could one ask unless it's seconds on the white chocolate Amaretto mousse.

View leaping lizards, gators at Lake County Museum

Leaping lizards—the gators are coming to the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum. "The Earth Trembles with his Thunder: A Social History of the American Alligator" exhibit opens Friday, Sept. 3 and runs through Friday, Oct. 29.

This unique exhibit is on loan from the Louisiana State Museum and is the only showing of its kind in Illinois. Several of the exhibits rarest items are from the Lake County Museum's Curt Telch Postcard Archives, including a rare view of "Alligator Joe," a famous early guide known only from pre World War I written accounts.

Created by Vaughn L. Glasgow, the Louisiana State Museum's director of special projects, the exhibit features historic images, artifacts and other American alligator memorabilia that document the interaction and changing relationship between man and alligator. Postcards and historic and humorous illustrations, reflecting popular fascination with the alligator, are interspersed throughout the exhibit.

A two-foot stuffed alligator, arranged in a Mae West pose, with a red light bulb for a tongue, is a highlight of the traveling exhibit. One of the more humorous documents on display is a signed affidavit by Charles Theriot of Baton Rouge, certifying that he taught his pet alligator to sing.

All ages are invited to visit the exhibit and learn the story of the American alligator from its discovery to its renewed popularity. Admission is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students and children.

The Lake County Museum is located in Lake-wood Forest Preserve near Wauconda. on Rte. 176.

Wheel World

Angelica Houston, Woody Allen

Woody carves a comedy again

Woody Allen hasn't had much to smile about lately, so the overall acceptance of his new comedy "Manhattan Murder Mystery," probably has proven to be a welcome turnaround.

The fact that Allen played Orson Wells with "Manhattan" during his Mia-Media ordeal, and turned out a comedy almost as good as those that brought him fame and fortune, might mean that he does better when he's not living the satisfied "fat cat" life and taking himself and his talent too seriously. Or maybe it's because he finally got rid of Mia and her neurosis and psychosis.

Though "Manhattan" is as fluffy as the marshmallow murder flicks of the 1940s, when William Powell, Myrna Loy and Asta ruled the Mr.-and-Mrs.-Detective-plus-dog roost, it does entertain, while serving up enough yaks to keep the audience satisfied without trying to give every one a headache from thinking too much.

Allen and Diane Keaton - by far his best leading lady - are the snoopy couple who get involved when their next door neighbor "suffers a heart attack" or did she?

Enter a supporting cast of suspicious friends led by Alan Alda and Angelica Houston, and the fun begins, if not with a bang, at least with a loud pop!

Alda goads the nosy mismatched Keaton and Allen into getting more embroiled in the situation. He wants a tomato on his burger and she wants a "tomaato" in her aspic.

The story, setting and characters would all bleed "Big Apple Juice" if they were pricked, being as New Yorkish as New York can be.

There are several scenes where the director delivers funny introspects about men and women, and their relationships, that could almost be self-reflective.

Though Woody Allen has managed to escape our favorites list for years, he does deliver this comedy with a cleverness we thought he might have lost. Keaton, as usual, does a fine job, and the rest of the cast emulates that little trick of doing a lot of nothing very well.

"Manhattan" draws a three out of five rating when the mystery sort of dies from too much confusion and there is no further meaningful comedy infusion. We figure we must have liked Allen and Keaton in this one because we were happy at the outcome. —by GLORIA DAVIS

Griefnotes

How can I help a grieving friend?

People in early grief often are shocked and unable to believe what has happened. They may feel angry or guilty and have difficulty organizing their life, sleeping or eating. If you wish to help you should encourage expressions of feelings. This means listening to the grieving as they talk about the death and their pain over it. You can also provide practical assistance such as babysitting, organizing the household and driving your friend to appointments. Attending the funeral or visitation gives you an opportunity to express your feelings and to give needed support. If you can't go the funeral or visitation contact your friend and express your feelings as soon as possible after the death.

TO ALL PARENTS

"I'll lend you for a little time a child of mine," he said.
"For you to love while he lives, and mourn for, when he's dead."

It may be for six or seven years, or thirty-two or three;

But will you, till I call him back, take care of him for Me?

He'll bring his charms to gladden you; and should his stay be brief,

You'll have his love as solace for your grief.

I cannot promise he will stay since all from earth return.

But there are lessons taught down there I want this child to learn.

I've looked the wide world over, in my search for teachers true.

And from the throngs that crown life's lanes I have selected you.

Now will you give him all your love nor think the labor vain.

Nor hate Me when I come to call, to take him back again?"

I fancied that I heard them say "Dear Lord, Thy will be done."

For all the joy Thy child will bring the risk of grief we'll run.

We'll shelter him with tenderness, we'll love him while we may

And for the happiness we have known forever grateful stay;

But shall the angels call him much sooner than we've planned.

We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand."

We miss you and love you!

Mom, Ray & Randy

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: My husband has been unemployed for almost two years. He cannot find any positions in his field (accounting). He is 42 years old and cannot enter into another field without experience. We have a preschool child which requires day care. What careers can you suggest which would command a salary high enough to cover this expense ($5,200 a year)? How can he compete in other fields when he is unsuccessful in his own with many years of experience? Fortunately, I am working full time. We have no family members able to care for our preschool child. Sincerely, A.K. - Morton Grove

A: Dear A.K. I was surprised to see that you had not included a copy of your husband's resume. While you state that your husband has been unemployed for almost two years, the circumstances surrounding his unemployment have been omitted. You mention that his field is accounting yet further failed to mention the type of accounting your husband is involved with. What is his forte? Is your husband degreed...a Tax professional...Accounts Payable Coordinator... CPA...Payroll Coordinator...Senior Cost Analyst? Without proper information, the possibilities are too numerous for me to assume the avenue for him to take. Your husband needs to sit down and evaluate what facets of accounting he is capable of handling and is willing to pursue either as a step up or a step back. I will say however, letting us assume that your husband was the Controller of a small manufacturing facility, he may wish to pursue a position in Cost Management for mid to large size corporation. It may also be that he needs to take a step back in order to get two steps ahead. As for your situation with child care, check out larger corporations offering child care as an employee benefit. Another alternative is to find a neighbor or friend that may be willing to watch your child in the a.m. in trade for you watching theirs in the p.m. If your husband is interested, he may wish to contact me for further information which I would be please to provide. Good luck.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

PALM

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 79'-0" X 63'-9"
LIVING: 2192 square feet
GARAGE: 800 square feet

PALM (333-100)
By Landmark Designs, Inc.

The Palm is a mid-size home that wraps around a lush entry courtyard. Tropical plants grow luxuriant blooms and abundant foliage in this protected environment.

Bright, airy and spacious throughout, the C-shaped single-level floor plan is ideal for families that like to entertain. Lofty vaulted ceilings and a generous use of glass add to the sense of openness in the living room and family kitchen. These two rooms run together, and both have a panoramic view to the rear. A fireplace with a tile or brick hearth defines the boundaries between the formal living room and the informal family room. At the same time, it serves as a focal point and auxiliary heat source. If no fireplace is desired, display shelving could be substituted.

Amenities in the family kitchen include a raised dishwasher, garden window, deep walk-in pantry, built-in oven and microwave, and a work island with range and grill. The nook is naturally illuminated by a wide window that faces into the landscaped courtyard. Utilities, including a pull-down ironing board and deep sink, are tucked behind pocket doors.

The pantry and two walk-in closets serve as a sound buffer between the kitchen and master suite, a sumptuous adult retreat with vaulted ceiling, bayed sitting area and private bathroom. The closet labeled "hers" is about a third larger than the one labeled "his". Luxury touches in the bathroom include an oversized shower and a second basin outside the enclosed section.

Storage closets line the hallway that leads to the secondary bedrooms at the opposite end of the house. The entry, too, is rich in storage space with a coat closet on one side, and a bench on the other -- handy for removing and stashing muddy footwear.

The guest bedroom is large and has a private bathroom with oversized shower and double vanity. The main bathroom serves the family living area, and bedroom three. Its location is also convenient to the garage and front entry. Storage space and a workbench are at the back of the garage, one step up from the parking area.

For a study kit of the PALM (333-100), send $9.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number) For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

LIPSERVICE

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Lakeland Newspapers

No signs

Is Chief Busch running for Sheriff or Chief? A petition I can understand, but signs are for politicians. Campaigning is inappropriate for policemen.

Bit sarcastic

What a lovely article Tom Stevens wrote about Dr. Dam. Too bad the head line was wrong. Should have read Dam takes the hypocritical oath. It would be more in line with his personality.

Dark street

I am from Fox Lake. Why are some of the street lights on Route 12 lit. Also, the intersection of Route 12 and Grand Ave. is so dark. It looks terrible.

Well wisher

I am calling from Vernon Hills. I have been following the co-joined twins story like everyone else. I understand that despite knowing the babies situation, they opted not to have an abortion. I wish the family all the strength.

Working person

This is a reply to the person who suggested that everyone in a bar in the morning has a drinking problem. Some people do work third shift! That is their time to drink. Are you suggesting they drink before work?

Wants new group

I am calling about a singles group for people with children. I went to a group and was quite disappointed. Are there any other groups out there?

Missed it

I am just calling to let all the people who missed the British Invasion at Holiday Park know what a fantastic show you missed. I am not blaming you, I am blaming very bad advertising. On Sunday they put on a fantastic show.

Another unhappy voter

Nepotism is alive and well in Round Lake Heights. What do you think about this, citizens?

Shame on you

Guilty or innocent, Ms. Paddock has brought disgrace to the lovely town of Grayslake. Shame on you.

American way

I am calling from Grayslake. I am 37 years old and I want everyone to know that these things I see in here about Ms. Paddock upset me. It is a free country and people are innocent until proven guilty. I am not involved with the school board or the school system at all.

Bigger government

Antioch government is getting bigger and more expensive for taxpayers. Hiring a community development director for $30,000 is not needed and a waste of tax payers money. Where can I apply for a job like this? I still question his credentials.

Accident avoidance

To everyone who does not know the reason why we are required to put on our headlights when we run our windshield wipers, this is the reason. It is because if the weather is bad enough to use the wipers, you obviously can't see well enough to drive without headlights. It is to avoid accidents and can save a lot of lives. Illinois is not the only state requiring this.

They all charge

The woman who complained about Round Lake book fees should check around. All districts surrounding Round Lake also charge book fees. Some, higher than ours. The taxes she pays does not begin to cover the approximately $4,000 it costs for each student. Forget your lawsuit and use your money to pay the school fees.

Park problems

I live on Lakeshore in Wauconda near the park. Every day I see the same teenagers there, in the same clothes drinking beer and smoking pot. I wonder where their parents are. This is in broad daylight. Can't we do something about this before younger children are influenced?

Editorial notes: Dear readers, due to the volume of calls we have received about upscale entertainment at the Lake County Fair, we are unable to print them all. Please note that all the callers rejected the suggestion and took offense from the term "dirt head."

Hated picture

What is with the picture on the front page of the last issue, the "old fashioned barn burner?" It looks like a crummy computer graphics job that even I could have done better on. Could you explain that?

Editorial note: Dear reader, the photo was a composite of several photos taken at the fire. Our intention was to include all facets of the fire to show as much of it as possible.

"I wasn't sure my feeling ill was serious or not, so I called ASK-A-NURSE."

"Speaking to ASK-A-NURSE is like talking to a knowledgeable 'good friend' any time of the day or night. I was given good advice about my illness, and felt much better after talking to a pro who spoke my language."

—Mary Anne Harold of Libertyville

Catholic school system celebrates 150 years

Many of the Archdiocese of Chicago's 359 Catholic schools throughout Cook and Lake counties will welcome students into classrooms this week as the largest parochial school system in the nation begins its "150th school year."

The Archdiocese of Chicago's Catholic schools represent the largest parochial school system and the ninth-largest school system of any kind, public or private, in the United States. Within Cook and Lake counties, there are 309 Catholic elementary schools and 50 Catholic high schools.

Dr. Elaine Schuster, superintendent of schools for the Archdiocese of Chicago, said, "We are very proud to begin our 150th year of service to parents and children of Cook and Lake counties."

For 150 years, parents have chosen Catholic schools for their children because of Catholic values and academic excellence."

Area's former prep stars shine in a 'Big' way

With autumn right around the corner and the leaves ready to turn and fall softly to the ground, another season of tackling, grunting and touchdowns is upon us.

From pee-wee to the professional ranks, Lake County football players are getting ready for this weekend's season openers.

However, what makes this season different from past seasons is the number

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

of former prep football stars now shining for Big Ten Conference universities.

In all, there are 13 local players on Big Ten rosters, some of which are making "big" impacts on their teams.

At the University of Illinois, former Carmel star Randy Bierman leads a group of five former Lake County-area prep stars in the university's pursuit of a Rose Bowl berth.

Randy Bierman

Bierman, a six-foot-five-inch senior offensive tackle, is one of only two players on the Illini squad that weighs more than 300 pounds and has excellent foot speed for a player of his size, according to the scouting reports.

Fighting Illini Head Coach Lou Tepper will start Bierman at right tackle again this season after starting all 12 games last season.

"Randy Bierman was our most consistent lineman in 1992 and should display all-star qualities again this season," said Tepper.

Also expected to see action this year is sophomore quarterback Johnny Johnson from North Chicago. Once expected to become the next Illini starting quarterback after his outstanding performance during spring drills, Johnson was named the back-up quarterback to red-shirt freshman Scott Weaver by Tepper last week.

Johnson, however, is the most athletically gifted of the Illini quarterbacks and has an extremely strong arm and quick feet. Johnson will be Tepper's first choice off the bench if Weaver gets hurt or falters early in the season.

"The physical part is not the problem," said Johnson of the adjustments to college football and Coach Greg Landry's pro-style offense. "It's the mental stuff. I'm going to study and do my best."

Also expected to contribute to the Illini football squad are senior linebacker John Sidari of Mundelein, senior offensive guard Phil Rathke of Lake Zurich, and sophomore linebacker Brian Davis of Highland Park.

On Evanston's Northwestern University campus, Wildcat Head Coach Gary Barnett is looking forward to improving on his three-win season last year and three Lake County players will have key positions in reaching that goal.

Starting offensive left tackle Matt O'Dwyer, a six-foot-five-inch senior from Lincolnshire, was rated the top offensive lineman for the Wildcats last season. In addition, the 290-pound former Stevenson star is the strongest Wildcat player, benching 460 pounds and squatting more than 600.

O'Dwyer was named to the All-Big Ten honorable-mention team last season

"O'Dwyer has everything that the position needs to be a great player," said Barnett. "He wants us to count on him and he's in position to have a great year."

Another former area prep star on the Wildcat's starting offensive line is senior right tackle Todd Bazak, who is one of 10 offensive starters returning to the line-up in 1993.

On the defensive side of the ball, former Antioch stand-out Mike Warren will make his presence felt at a starting outside linebacker position as a junior. In 1992, Warren played in 9 of the Wildcat's 11 games.

"Warren can make strides with every play and be a solid fixture in the Wildcat defense," said Barnett.

Outside the state of Illinois, four Lake County-area players will also play on Big Ten teams this season.

Former Libertyville prep-star Matt Christensen, son of Libertyville Varsity Head Coach Dale Christensen, will again suit up for the Michigan State Spartans as the team's starting outside linebacker for the third straight year.

Christensen, a junior, was fourth on the Spartan team in tackles in 1992 with 83, 25th in the Big Ten Conference.

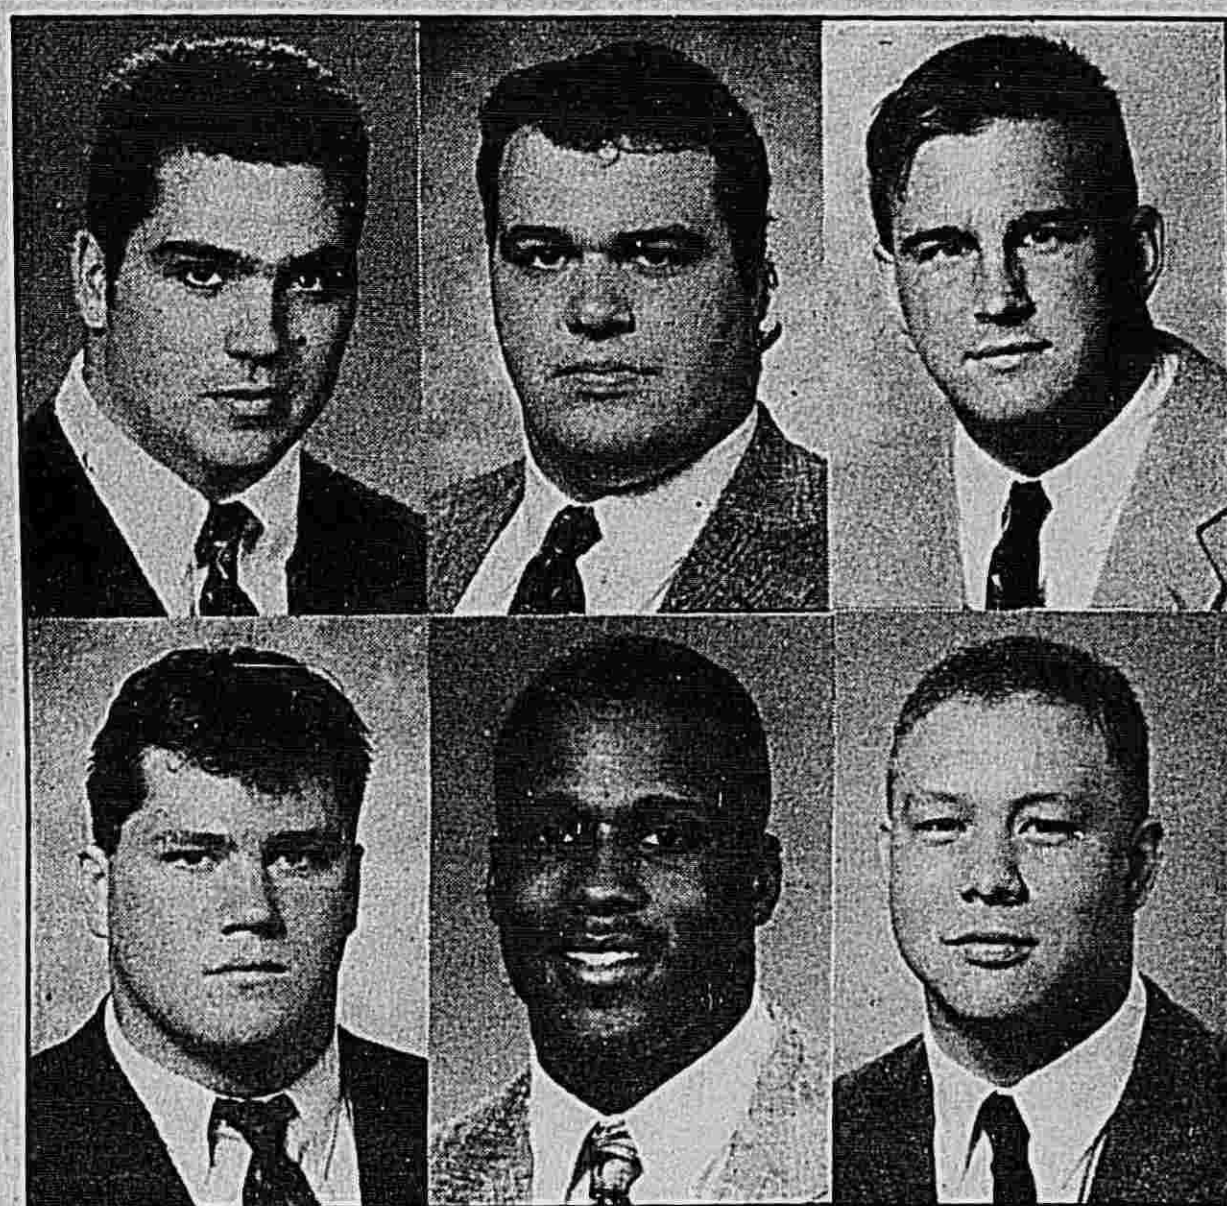

The scouting report on Christensen is that he covers the pass extremely well and is a candidate for post-season recognition. He has started 18 of 21 games in his career at Michigan State.

Former Carmel graduate Jim Maciag, a junior inside linebacker, will again be an Academic All-Big Ten candidate and will play mainly on special teams for the Purdue squad.

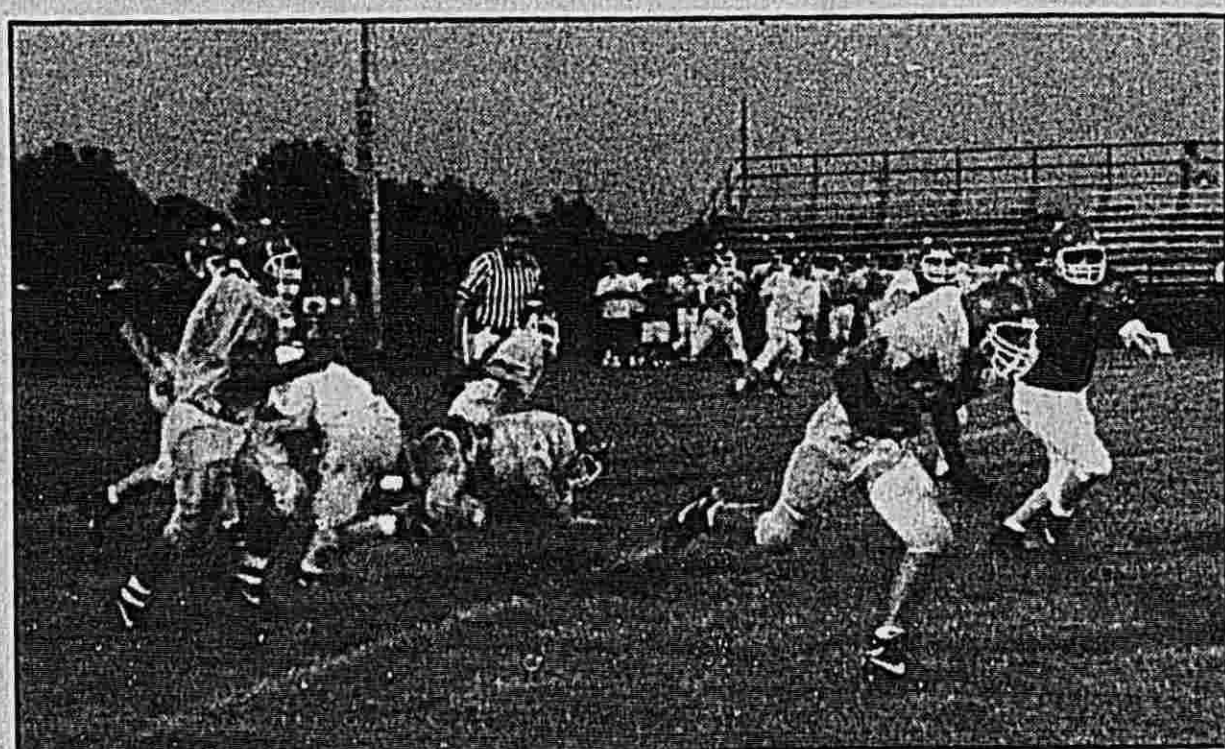

In addition to Maciag, Purdue recruit Leo Perez, a nose guard from Buffalo Grove, will attend the university and practice with the team.

The 13th player on a Big Ten roster this season is Wisconsin freshman quarterback Michael Brin from Highland Park.

It look like it's going to be a good year to follow college football in Lake County.

Mundelein Night Football

No... Al, Frank, and Dan will not be in Mundelein this season but the Mundelein Mustang Football team will be hosting several Friday night home football games this season. The first night home game is Sept. 10 against Zion-Benton at 7:30 p.m.

Carmel displays new attitude

This year's crop of seniors on the Carmel High football squad were not even born when Bachmann Turner Overdrive hit the charts with the mid-1970's song, "Taking Care of Business."

Yet, when the Carmel squad looks for inspiration, those are the words on this year's poster. For the football players the song is a golden oldie.

"The seniors got together and dressed up in business suits and posed in the library. I did not have anything to do with it. When you have a group of senior leadership like that, you don't have to worry," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

Carmel has lost key players in the 6-4 1992 season J.D. Clark, Jamal Swift and Jermaine Williams to graduation and at least one familiar Corsair has switched sides of the ball.

"Tony Longmire came up to me and asked if he could play defense. He is handling the transition well," Fitzgibbons said of the former quarterback.

Senior Erick Janssens, 5-10, 190, and Kenye Pendleton, a 5-9, 150 pound senior, are back in the double slot offense.

The offensive line has four players back, led by Matt Ehardt, a 6-2, 245 pound senior. George Kovarsky, a 6-1, 235 pound guard, B.J. Coleman, a 5-9, 205 pound tackle and Mike Ori, 6-2, 235, are back.

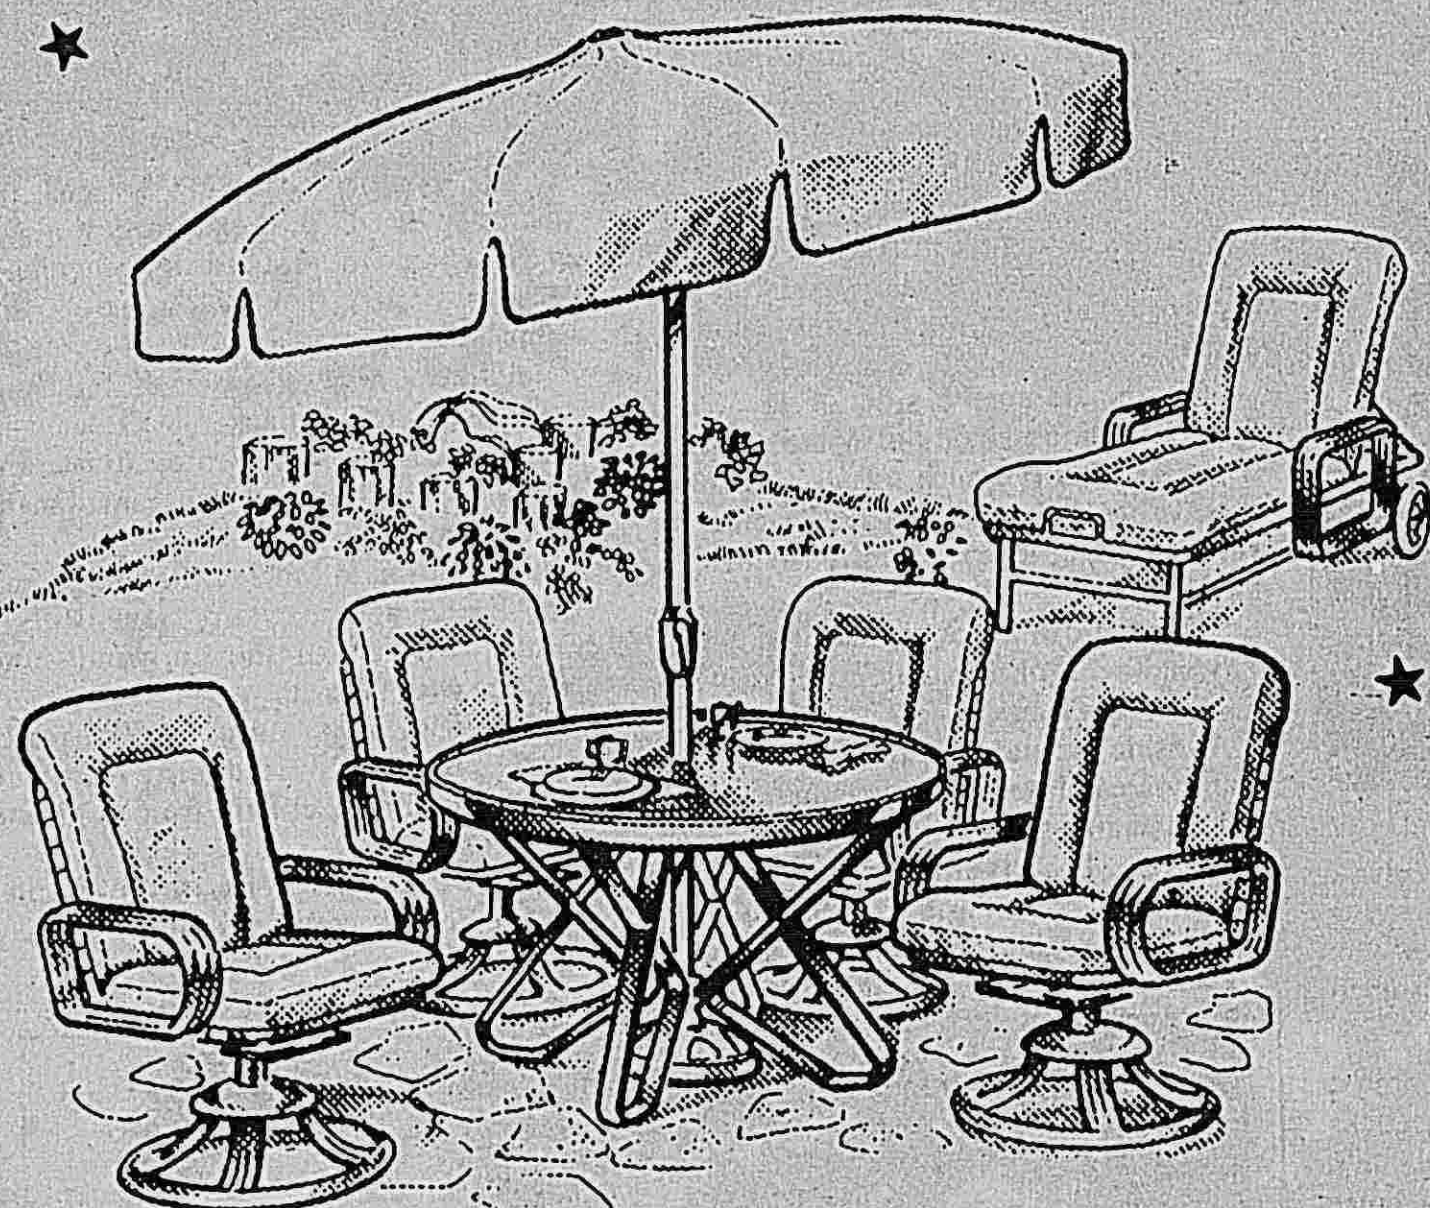

Coleman played center the last four games of 1992.

Defensively, Jose Abella, 5-9, 250 pound tackle is back as a senior as is linebacker Charles Burgoon, 6-0, 200. Matt Head, 5-10, 165, whom Fitzgibbons calls a "hard-nose kid" is back. Rudy Magna returns to the secondary as does Rick Koeser.

J.R. O'Campo and Rob Farina are looking to be the signal callers. "Both are slasher type of quarterbacks. We might open up the offense more," Fitzgibbons said.

Royal Eagles take first

While most teams need to build to a championship, the Lindenhurst Royal Eagles U-10 team started with one after they won the Mt. Prospect Green-White Tournament. The Royal Eagles, sponsored by Countryside Bakery and Antioch Tire, beat a strong Libertyville team 3-1 in the championship game. This was the first tournament these boys played together in.

Quicker Warren aims high

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Warren Twp. High School football fans have been accustomed to success.

The Blue Devils, after all, have been playoff bound each of the last three years.

"Making the playoffs is a major goal. The sophomores were 5-4 last year. We have to hone them to get to the playoffs," Hughes said.

Warren will have a different look in 1993.

We are smaller size-wise than last year. We had a team with great size last year with Brandon Schild at 6-5, Andy Ichol at 6-3 and our center was 6-1, our guard 6-1. We had great size across the front. This year our tallest guy is Jake Reichert at 6-3, 255," Coach Reggie Hughes said.

By the same token, what the Blue Devils lack in height this year they hope to make up for in quickness.

"We came in average to less than average conditioning, but as they left they were tired bodies, but they seem to be quicker than last year," Hughes said.

"Tony Largo, a junior last year who half-way through the season had rotator cuff problems. He could not raise his hand above his shoulder. He got very little experience JV-wise. He is a very inexperienced senior," Hughes said of the quarterback slot.

Libertyville figures to be the pre-season North Suburban Conference favorite along with Stevenson and Lake Forest, according to Hughes.

NCHS moves to the next level

by MARK HAHN
Lakeland Newspapers

"Playing the game is the battle; putting our students into a college or a university is the war."

This is the game plan North Chicago High School football coach Morris Norman is taking into the 1993 season.

"Our primary concern is the movement of our students to the next level," said Norman. "Winning a game and losing the war is totally unacceptable."

Norman said the war is moving high school students to the next level. Although some kids are unable to play or participate in football once they leave high school, Norman is interested in that student going to the next level, regardless of football.

"Between winning a game with a student who is a good athlete but hasn't made a commitment to the next level, and losing a game with a kid who isn't as good but is trying to make the effort, we will lose that game."

"We teach the joy of competition and playing hard- not winning or losing."

Last year, the hawks finished 7th in the North Suburban Conference at 4-4. The hawks went 5-4 overall. This year, Norman predicts a 5-4 conference record.

"We'll be able to compete in the conference, to win I don't know," said Norman.

Enthusiasm returns as Dillon begins first year as head coach

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The Rams were about to learn how to celebrate a touchdown. Grayslake did not have much experience at that last year, suffering through a winless campaign.

But hope springs eternal in August, and that is just what new mentor Dillon is planning on.

"The kids are really hungry. When I got the job, I interviewed the seniors one-on-one. They have set some high goals for themselves and are very enthusiastic. They are the kind of kids who will go through a wall for you," Dillon said.

The enthusiasm may be explained by the fact when a football camp was planned between former coach Bill Johnson's leaving for an administrative job at Antioch and Dillon being named, there were 17 players signed up. When Dillon got the job, 33 more participated.

"The juniors will have to start, but we will try to platoons as many players as we can," Dillon said. "We have 30 players out, but we plan on doing some recruiting at school. There are 20 sophomores and 34 freshmen."

ACHS looks to improve in '93

by ALEC JUNGE
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch High School football team hopes a new year a new team with many new members will have perform better this year.

Team strengths seem to be team speed and an experienced backfield according to coach Del Pechauer.

"We will be have more team speed than last year," Pechauer said. "Hopefully the speed will compensate for mental errors. The backfield is experienced with the quarterback (Casey O'Donnel,) fullback (Kent Ipson), running back (Mike Stephenson) and four ends returning."

Pechauer said the team is inexperienced with many juniors on the squad. Although the team doesn't have much experience he is still encouraged.

"The sophomore team was 8-1, so there is some talent there," Pechauer said.

The schedule appears tough in the middle. The teams best chances are the opener and later in the schedule, Pechauer added.

Cheers to come

Lakeland Cardinal cheerleaders ready for the Northern Illinois Junior Football League season. The Squad is, not in order, Stacey Bachofner, Misty Eckstein, Krist Gibbs, Missi Goodwin, Tesha Griffin, Sarah Hurlless, Jamie Kantenwein, Brooke Konter, Sara Lawrence, Amanda McNally, Amanda Morman and Jessica Schenning. The squad is coached by Melanie Morman and Tracy Frounfelker.

Returning running backs QB, lift Johnsburg's hopes

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The schedule-maker was more kind to the Johnsburg High football hopes. Immaculate Conception and Driscoll are not part of the four-game non-conference slate.

"Not having IC or Driscoll on the schedule does put us in a better position. IC had 10 players playing college, two in Division I. We have yet to have a player make Division I," Johnsburg Coach Hap Farlow said.

The Skyhawks have 31 players on the varsity this year, five back on offense and defense.

Quarterback John Paul Dudley made a 3-6 season an entertaining one last fall by passing for more than 1,000 yards. The 6-4, 195 pounder is back for a finale performance as a senior.

"He has made great strides. He is a legitimate quarterback," Farlow said.

Shaun Roby, a 5-10, 160 pound senior, hopes to fill the role that Todd Freund, one of the top 10 pass catchers in Chicago, did.

"Todd was one of those players who come along every so often. He was one of the top wide receivers in the state. Shaun is capable," Farlow said.

The running back tandem of Scott Dierman, a 5-10, 165 pounder and Chad Germaine, 5-11, 175 pounder, is back.

Ken Michels, a 6-0, 240 pounder, is back at tackle.

"We think we are in a position to contend," Farlow said.

Hope for the end of discharge petition

It has been a tremendous uphill fight, but there is hope that members of the U.S. House of Representatives will be able to put to an end a custom which, for almost six decades, has blocked attempts to bring legislation to the floor of the House.

At issue is what is called the discharge petition.

The discharge petition was designed to permit members to force out of a House committee legislation being blocked by a committee chairman.

The discharge petition is supposed to protect members from such blocking tactics by moving a measure to the floor if a majority (218) of the members sign the petition. But that is far more difficult a task to accomplish than you might think.

This avenue of exit for the legislation

From The Capital

US Cong. Philip M. Crane (R)

is often successfully blocked because, since 1934, the list of signers has been kept secret until the required number is reached. As a result, also kept secret are the names of those who have not signed the petition.

This permits members to publicly proclaim they are for a particular piece of legislation, while at the same time they are blocking its approval by refusing to sign the discharge petition. They can go so far as to cosponsor legislation, but refuse to put their signatures to a discharge petition for that very bill, with no one being aware of their obstructing passage of a bill they publicly support.

Discharge petitions are kept in a locked drawer at the clerk's desk in the House chamber. Only House leaders have access to the list of those who have signed a petition.

The only time a member may see the list is when he signs it. Members are not permitted to take any notes when looking at the list, and must read a statement noting that disclosing any names on the petition is prohibited.

Our conservative Republican colleague from Oklahoma, James Inhofe, is leading the drive to have made public the names of those signing discharge petitions. His bill is now tied up in the Rules Committee where the chairman has promised hearings soon. Unwilling to wait until such hearings might be held, Congressman Inhofe began a discharge petition to free his own bill from the committee.

Just before we left for the August recess, he had gained the assistance of 216 other members and was just one short of the necessary 218. At that point, six Democrat House members withdrew their names from the petition.

Congressman Inhofe says the six were pressured to withdraw by Rules Committee Chairman Joe Moakley of Massachusetts. The chairman says he talked to the six about the matter, but denies any strong-arm pressure.

In recent years, a proposed constitutional amendment for a balanced budget twice reached the floor of the House as a result of discharge petitions.

Other controversial legislation which Congressman Inhofe believes could be brought up for consideration through discharge petitions over the objections of committee chairmen include a line item veto.

It's not going to be easy, but I believe we have a good chance of ending this House custom which can form a roadblock for floor debate and votes on important legislation.

Children from households that meet Federal guidelines are eligible for free meals or free milk.

All meals served must meet patterns established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. However, if a child has been determined by a doctor to be handicapped and the handicap would prevent the child from eating the regular school meal, this school will make substitutions prescribed by the doctor. If a substitution is needed, there will be no extra charge for the meal. If you believe your child needs substitutions because of a handicap, please get in touch with us for further information.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free benefits, households must complete the attached application as soon as possible, sign it and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. Households should answer all applicable questions on the form. An application which does not contain all the required information cannot be processed and approved by the school.

The required information is:

Food Stamp/AFDC Households: If a household currently receives Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for their child(ren), they only have to list the child(ren)'s name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number and sign the application.

All Other Households: If a household's income is at or below the level shown on the income scale, children are eligible for free milk. Households must provide the following information: (1) the names of all household members, (2) the social security number of the adult household member signing the application, or the word none if the adult does not have a social security number, (3) the amount of income each household member received last month, where it comes from (wages, child support, etc.), (4) the signature of an adult household member.

The information on the application may be verified by school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If income information is provided and children are approved for milk benefits, households must tell the school when their household income increases by $50 or more per month ($600 per year) or when their household size decreases. If a Food Stamp or AFDC case number was listed, the household must tell the school when they no longer receive Food Stamps or AFDC for their child.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not eligible now but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, or a household member becomes unemployed, they should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases foster children are eligible for meal benefits regardless of the household income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for meal benefits for them, they should complete the application.

Households dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss it with the school. Households also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: Dr. Kathryn Oddsden, Board President, 850 Highview Dr., Antioch, Ill. 60002, 395-0712.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Sequoit Pride honors students

Sequoit Pride, the support organization for Antioch Community High School, wishes to congratulate the following students for their outstanding efforts.

Senior Nicole Haenchen was crowned Miss Lindenhurst while Candice Chingo was selected first runner-up. In the Antioch pageant, senior Kelly Sullivan was selected Miss Antioch and Laura Harris placed first runner-up in the Lake Villa contest. Additional students participating in local pageants were Elizabeth Earl, Brandy Anderson, Donna Jedgele, Gina Hoerle, Kelly Johns, Nicki Defer, and Jamie Deyoung.

Matt Vandrush attended theater camp during the summer.

Junior Amy Holbo, a 1993-94 Rotary foreign exchange student, arrived in Deneliquin, Australia on Aug. 1. During her first week in Australia, Holbo was introduced to kangaroos and emus at an animal sanctuary, visited red gum forests and a sheep station, sampled the famous Australian bar-be-que and attended an "Aussie" rules football game. She is looking forward to trips to the "outback", where she will present a slide show of America to school groups and a December trip to the Gold Coast where she will vacation at Surfer's Paradise.

Under the direction of Keith Cox and John Olisar, the Antioch High School band and choir students attended music camp at St. Johns Military Academy in Delefield, Wis. At camp, students prepared new music for band competitions, football halftime marching events and concerts. The students themselves paid the entire cost of the camp, including transportation to and from Wisconsin.

Congratulations to the 329 ACHS students who earned Sequoit Pride Honor Medalist Standing for their academic achievements. Honors Recognition Day will be Sept. 25.

The Antioch Music Parents will be raffling a classic 1967 Ford Mustang convertible to raise money.

Sequoit Pride meets the first Monday of the month at 7:30 p.m. in the ACHS Commons. Interested parents, teachers and community members are encouraged to attend and lend their ideas and support to the Sequoit Pride organization.

The declared emergency terminated on Aug. 23, 1993.

The village still holds out hope that the necessary repairs will be made. The developer will have an opportunity to complete the work before the village takes action.

"We are hoping that they will complete the work," said Bob Silhan, Director of Planning, Zoning, and Building of Antioch.

If the town is required to finance the necessary work, the developer will be liable for those costs. Furthermore, there was some board discussion about placing a lien on the property to insure repayment if the village must pay for the work.

Honeymoon spots for baby boom fleas

Fleas, like people, want a piece of the American dream.

And newlywed fleas, according to leading experts, love large families and a good place to raise them.

While most Americans might look for a home close to transportation and excellent schools, all it takes to make a flea happy is a nice, warm-blooded dog or cat.

Fleas thrive in hot, humid areas, especially when they're close to rivers, lakes and oceans. The damper and more uncomfortable the climate for humans, the more romantic and promising for fleas. Fleas do their best breeding in hot, sticky weather.

Given the right climate, the average flea couple can produce 3,000 offspring in a month, and 250,000 in less than a year.

Fleas, experts say, are pioneers, who are now homesteading in formerly flea-free areas such as New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado. Although they've been around for over 30 million years, fleas love exploring new places.

Increased real estate development in formerly arid areas has created oases in the proverbial desert. People who cultivate gardens—creating humidity as they water their lawns—also cultivate fleas.

Experts say some people think once the weather turns cool, fleas disappear. That's a big mistake. Fleas don't need a trip to the Caribbean. A nice, warm house makes a perfect winter retreat. The minute the central heating or fireplace goes on, fleas curl up and settle in for a nice, cozy stay.

While we humans may fantasize about lolling on a sun-kissed beach, warmed by the tropic sun, fleas dream of snuggling up in a closet full of fluffy coats or on a thick shag rug near the hearth. Even if the house is relatively cool, he adds, fleas can remain dormant for as long as a year without a single bite to eat. In dry, cold climates, humidifiers make fleas delirious with joy.

To keep your house from being a resort for fleas, experts recommend these simple steps:

- Be alert to the problem. If your pet begins to scratch, or develop "hot spots," fleas could be the problem.
- Arm yourself with a pyrethrins-based flea and tick shampoo, dust and spray. Of all major brands, only Sulfodene/Scratchex makes a flea-killing shampoo, aerosol spray and dust containing the safe "flower power" of pyrethrins, a natural insecticide recommended by veterinarians, veterinary dermatologists and consumer advocates.

- Get a flea collar containing safe Longban (Dursban) to keep fleas at bay for a full 11 months at a time. Scratchex makes one for dogs and for cats.

Decal recognizes hearing ear dogs

Hearing dogs help thousands of deaf and hard-of-hearing individuals lead independent lives by acting as their "ears" and alerting their owners to important sounds.

Like other service animals, hearing dogs must go through rigorous training before they become certified to work. Once assigned to deaf or hard-of-hearing individuals, hearing dogs help their owners cope with some of the more practical difficulties of hearing loss, by constantly alerting their owners to such everyday sounds as the telephone, doorbell, smoke alarm or an approaching vehicle.

Since hearing dogs are typically mixed breeds—in fact, many come from animal shelters—and their owners do not have a visible disability, these hard-working canines are not widely accepted when accompanying their owners in public places.

With the support of Pedigree® Food for Dogs, the Delta Society, a national organization dedicated to the health and well-being of people and animals, has created the Hearing Dog Access Decal. Designed to be affixed to door fronts, entrances or windows of any public facility or place, the decal makes it clear that the establishment not only recognizes the legal rights of deaf and hard-of-hearing people, but welcomes hearing dogs and acknowledges the important jobs these dogs do.

For more information on the decals or on hearing dogs, call the Delta Society at 1-206-226-7357 or send a self-addressed stamped envelope to P.O.

Box 1080, Renton, WA 98057-9906.

Learn benefits of spaying/neutering

A new booklet, "Should You Spay/Neuter Your Pet?" discusses common misconceptions pet owners have about this important topic. Developed by the Alpo Pet Center, this pamphlet notes that, surprisingly, many pet owners are either unaware of or ignore significant health, behavior, hygiene, and social benefits associated with "altering" their four-legged friends.

For instance, spayed females avoid the risk of ovarian and uterine cancer and have a lower risk of developing breast cancer.

Neutered males have no risk of developing testicular cancer and have a lower risk of developing prostate problems. Neutered males may become less aggressive and both males and females tend to stray less.

The booklet reassures owners that pets get "fat and lazy" from overfeeding and lack of exercise—not from spaying or neutering.

To receive a free copy of this booklet send a long, self-addressed stamped envelope to the Alpo Pet Center, Dept. S/N, P.O. Box 25200, Lehigh Valley, PA 18002-5200.

Dystonia leaves many suffering alone

Many times it's a mystery for years. Patients experience a variety of symptoms ranging from shaking hands or involuntary blinking to a whispered voice or pronounced muscle spasms that cause excruciating pain.

When others stare curiously or ask about the symptoms, the sufferer be-

by SUZIE REED
Lakeland Newspapers

comes stressed and the symptoms become even worse.

Ordinary doctors have no idea with what they are dealing and even most neurologists dismiss the symptoms as nerves.

Frustrated patients feel abandoned and alone, thinking that no one else can imagine what is happening to them.

The disease has a name, and over 350,000 victims in the United States.

Dystonia is a neurological disorder that produces involuntary muscle spasms which twist the body into painful angles. Dystonia Awareness Week is Sept. 6-12.

"I had terrible posture when I was about 7 or 8," says Rita Halle of Lake Villa. "I felt very awkward. My head kept going to one side."

When she reached her teens, her hands began to shake. After her first child was born, she experienced symptoms of head shaking.

"The neurologist said it was something hereditary caused by nerves. I tried different medications for 15 years; nothing worked. One time my head froze for four days," said Halle.

Three years ago she was referred to a neurologist at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center.

"When Dr. Comella walked in he looked at me and said, 'You have dystonia!'"

Since that time she has been taking Artane (trihexyphenidyl) to reduce the confused signals coming out of her brain. Some patients are given botulinum toxin which actually paralyzes the muscles.

"It makes me sleepy," said Halle, "and some people develop antibodies to the toxin."

She has been able to control the disease with careful medication and by avoiding stress and too much shoulder movement.

Halle has also been active in the Chicago Chapter of Dystonia Research in Highland Park. Just as there are no doctors in Lake County who treat the disease, there are no patient groups within a reasonable distance.

"If I find enough other people who have the disease we could start our own group," she said.

Unfortunately many sufferers have never been accurately diagnosed. Many more are so embarrassed by the symptoms they avoid society. Halle feels they could help each other if they realize they are not alone.

Anyone with an interest in finding out more about the disease or organizing a support group in Lake County should contact the Research Foundation at 170 Lakeside Pl., Highland Park, IL 60035, (708)299-0095.

Health Department adds children's immunization clinic for September

The Lake County Health Department Children's Immunization Program has scheduled an extra shot clinic, in addition to those regularly scheduled, in September to address an expected heavier demand for immunizations brought on by new state requirements for entering schools. For example, students entering all grades in 1993-94 must show proof of two doses of measles vaccine. Exceptions are those who have been diagnosed as having had measles, or those who have evidence of immunity.

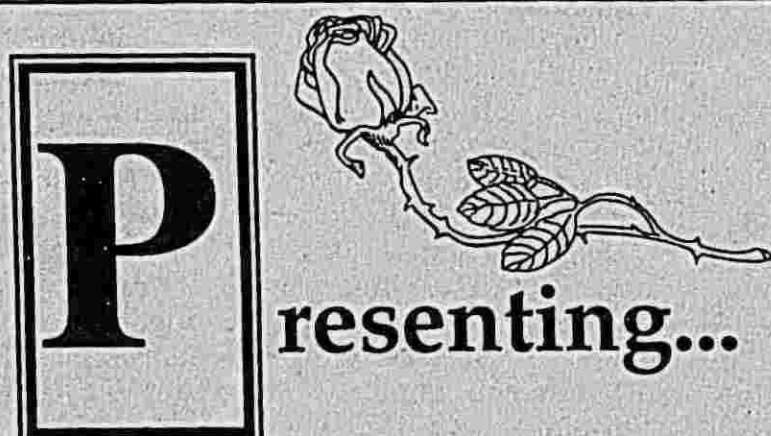

The special September immunization clinic will be held on Sept. 1, from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Belvidere Medical Building, 2400 Belvidere Rd., Waukegan. Normally scheduled shot clinics at the Belvidere Medical Building are also held on Mondays from 1 to 3 p.m., Tuesdays from 8 to 10 a.m. and Thursdays from 1 to 3 p.m.

At the clinic, children can be immunized against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough (D.P.T.), measles, mumps, rubella (German measles), and Haemophilus influenza, type B (H.I.B.).

Parents are asked to bring their children's past immunization records. If a child has an immunization letter from a school nurse, it should also be brought to the clinic.

For more information, please call the Lake County Health Department Communicable Disease Program, 360-6761.

House of Joy offers the best in Chinese cuisine

Those looking for a treat in Chinese cuisine need look no further. The House of Joy opened a little over a month ago at 310 Townline Rd. at K-Mart Plaza in Mundelein.

Owned and operated by celebrity chef Yu-Yuan Fu, the House of Joy offers an extensive selection of Mandarin, Szechwan and Cantonese dishes. If you don't see what you want on the menu, speak up and Chef Fu will see that you get it.

Diners who have been in the building before will find a number of improvements in appearance. An elegant dining room offers an inviting atmosphere in which to enjoy a delicious meal. Full bar service is available as well as a complete carryout menu.

Enjoy the Champagne Sunday Brunch from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30. The array features Roast Peking Duck every week along with a selection of four or five other popular entrees. Typical selections are Sesame Chicken, General Tso's Chicken, Orange Flavor Beef, and Seafood Deluxe, a delicious blend of shrimp, scallops, crabmeat, lobster and vegetables in a creamy sauce. The buffet offers an assortment of four appetizers, such as egg rolls, shrimp toast, potato croquettes with shrimp, pot stickers and fried chicken wings. Also included are fried rice, soft noodles, desserts, fresh fruit and a glass of champagne. Prices for the brunch are $8.95 for adults and 50 cents per year for children from 3 to 10. Unlimited champagne is available for an additional $2.

Chef Fu's most popular dish so far seems to be his Sesame Chicken, a crispy, saucy delight featuring nuggets of tender, tasty chicken. Another favorite is the flavorful Hunan Beef with a mixture of fresh vegetables and velvety sauce.

One enthusiastic diner tried the Scallops in Garlic Sauce. "I asked him to put in pea pods with the other vegetables and he did," she said. "The scallops just melted in my mouth."

Restaurant manager Joe Huang recommends General Tso's chicken. "Several customers have told us it's the best Gen. Tso's chicken they've ever had."

For customers who prefer seafood, the House of Joy prepares dishes with fresh lobster.

The bar offers the usual selection of drinks as well as tropical specialties such as Mai Tais, Piña Colodas and Hawaiian Coolers.

Diners are frequently treated to a demonstration of chef Fu's skills when he brings his cutting board and cleaver out to the dining room. Blindfolded, (Don't try this at home!) he will turn a piece of cabbage into slaw. The delicate flowers that garnish his dishes are quickly carved from ordinary vegetables.

The House of Joy is open from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and on Sunday. On Friday and Saturday the restaurant stays open till 11 p.m. For more information call 949-6181.

Chef Yu-Yuan Fu, his wife Jennifer, and restaurant manager Joe Huang always put their guests first at the House of Joy.

Labor Day weekend at The Country Squire

This Labor Day weekend might be the right time to gather friends and family for great food and conversation at The Country Squire Restaurant.

For instance, you could have a long and leisurely lunch, choosing something as simple as soup and a sandwich or enjoy the complete luncheon. Try the Monte Cristo made of three decks with cheese, ham, and sliced turkey dipped in egg and pan fried. Or, select our New Orleans shrimp plate topped with tomato wedges, hard boiled eggs, in a bed of lettuce and cocktail sauce.

If you are really hungry try the luncheon entrees which include fresh fruit cocktail, soup or tomato juice, fresh spinach with warm oil and vinegar dressing topped with crisp bacon and chopped eggs, and potato or vegetable. Entrees include pork chops, broiled whitefish, or breast of chicken. Prices start at $4.25 to $11.95. We also have some new "lite" lunches too.

Saturday is a good day for late afternoon dining. From 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. they serve early dinners. They have over 20 entrees to choose from. Select your appetizer choice of soup or fresh fruit cup. Spinach salad or a tossed salad are available with your choice of dressing. Dinner also includes potato and vegetable, dessert, and beverage. Prices start at $7.95.

The regular dinner menu is served from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. and on Sundays from noon to 9 p.m. Remember those Sunday dinners when all the family would get together? Give them a call and they will reserve a table for you and your family, no matter how large. Seafood, steaks, chops, and other entrees are expertly prepared. Included with the meals are the relish tray of cheese spread, liver paté, spiced apples, and two surprise salads.

After church or a round of golf, enjoy the Sunday sit-down brunch. The extensive menu has many specialties. The service is superb and your brunch order is taken and served at your table. Prices range from $6.95.

There is something extra special at The Country Squire! They now have our new international menu. Swiss Chef Haakon Blanken plans a series of dishes from around the world. Better yet, they are different every week. So, you can travel the world with our international menu without ever leaving home. Visit Ireland, Greece, Germany, Norway, and even the Middle East. Prices are from $11.95 to $14.95.

The summer rains have brought lush greenery, so come and enjoy the gardens while you eat. We are located at Routes 120 and 45 in Grayslake. It is easy to get here from wherever you live. For reservations or more information, call 223-0121. We will be closed as usual on Mondays, so have a great Labor Day.
